american moviegoers have long turned to the hollywood western for reassurance in times of crisis during the genre s heyday the films of john ford howard hawks and henry hathaway reflected a grand patriotism that resonated with audiences at the end of world war ii the tried and true western was questioned by ford and george stevens during the cold war and in the 1960s directors like sam peckinpah and george roy hill retooled the genre as a commentary on american ethics during the vietnam war between the mid 1970s and early 1990s the western faded from view until the gulf war when kevin costner s dances with wolves 1990 and clint eastwood s unforgiven 1992 brought it back with moral complexities since 9 11 the western has seen a resurgence blending its patriotic narrative with criticism of america s place in the global community exploring such films as true grit 2010 and brokeback mountain 2005 along with television series like deadwood and firefly this collection of new essays explores how the western today captures the dichotomy of our times and remains important to the american psyche

the fox tv series 24 might have been in production long before its premier just two months after 9 11 but its storyline and that of many other television programs has since become inextricably embedded in the nation s popular consciousness this book marks the first comprehensive survey and analysis of war on terror themes in post 9 11 american television critiquing those shows that either blindly or intentionally supported the bush administration s security policies stacy takacs focuses on the role of entertainment programming in building a national consensus favoring a war on terror taking a close look at programs that comment both directly and allegorically on the post 9 11 world in show after show she chillingly illustrates how popular television helped organize public feelings of loss fear empathy and self love into narratives supportive of a controversial and unprecedented war takacs examines a spectrum of program genres talk shows reality programs sitcoms police procedurals male melodramas war narratives to uncover the recurrent cultural themes that helped convince americans to invade afghanistan and iraq and compromise their own civil liberties spanning the past decade of the ongoing conflict she reviews not only key touchstones of post 9 11 popular culture such as 24 rescue me and sleeper cell but also less remarked upon but relevant series like jag off to war six feet under and jericho she also considers voices of dissent that have emerged through satirical offerings like the daily show and science fiction series such as lost and battlestar galactica takacs dissects how the war on terror has been broadcast into our living rooms in programs that routinely offer simplistic answers to important questions who exactly are we fighting why do they hate us and she examines the climate of fear and paranoia they ve created unlike cultural analyses that view the government s courting of hollywood as a conspiracy to manipulate the masses her book considers how economic and industry considerations complicate state media relations throughout the era terrorism tv offers fresh insight into how american television directly and indirectly reinforced the bush administration s security agenda and argues for the continued importance of the medium as a tool of collective identity formation it is an essential guide to the televisual landscape of american consciousness in the first decade of the twenty first century
