Stepping Up to Spiritual Maturity 2012-06 in this updated reissue of his 1984 classic James Fowler applies his groundbreaking research on the development of faith to Christianity in his revised first chapter. Fowler locates his approach to the study of human and faith development in relation to the contemporary conversation about identity and selfhood in postmodernity. Fowler invites readers to explore what it means to find and claim vocation, a purpose for one's life that is part of the purposes of God, reclaiming covenant and vocation as ideals for responsible mature Christian selfhood. Fowler shows how a dynamic understanding of what vocation involves can both inform and transform lives.

The Critical Journey 2011 when you are on a journey, it helps to have a map of the terrain and a guide to help you along the way. In this book, Mark Conner presents such a map and guides us through the stages of faith that are common to the spiritual journey. This journey is rarely linear or in a straight line; there are many curves, twists, and surprises along the way. Sometimes we seem to move in circles or in random patterns that don't make sense at the time. Nevertheless, God is at work in our lives. Welcome to the journey of faith. Endorsements: Christians throughout the world are asking themselves what lifelong discipleship really means in today's fast-changing culture. Mark Conner has written a thoughtful guide combining his own personal experience with insightful biblical and theological reflection, all of it offering practical ways to live as faithful followers of Jesus. John Draneuk, theologian and best-selling author, if you want to move out of safety zones and follow Jesus' trail of the full human being through the seasons of life, this book gives some great tips born of the author's experience. Ray Simpson, best-selling author of Celtic Christianity and founding guardian of the International Community of Aidan and Hilda in Lindisfarne, UK, too often in our very individualistic culture we assume what we are going through in our faith journey is unique. Mark Conner's book, The Spiritual Journey, helps us understand that we are not alone in our various stages of faith. With insight, clarity, helpful descriptions, and personal stories, Mark has produced a book that should be compulsory reading for Christians of all ages. Cheryl McCallum, minister, church leader, experienced theological educator.

The Five Stages of Faith 2022-06-14 combining the faith development theory of james fowler with the psychodynamics of viktor frankl and utilizing many of the insights of contemporary biblical scholarship the author has here proposed a unique and provocative interpretation of the life of Jesus as described in the epistle to the Hebrews as the leader and perfecter of faith. No doubt many will find this approach to a life of Christ to be novel even disturbingly unorthodox yet it has been written in the conviction that the faith of most Christians for the most part has fallen into the heresy of Monophysitism if not in theory at least in practice amounting to a denial of Jesus as a human being and as a result a person of faith in addition in his Christological postscript the author has sketched out the beginnings of a new more evolutionary approach to understanding how Jesus might be understood to be divine even while remaining the fully human character depicted in this book

the powerlessness of jjeeng animist deities or divinities the need for alternative protection from god and the search for personal identity during civil war in south sudan the author maintains that god mysteriously reveals himself to jjeeng animist believers and wins their hearts through miracles or theophanies which in turn reveal the powerlessness of animist gods jak whom jjeeng subsequently abandon and believe in god as an alternative means to substantiate their faith until the recent move of god to draw jjeeng believers and other south sudanese ethnic communities to himself the indigenous people still believe in the african animist deities even after the european christian missionaries have left africa
