every sphere of society is crying out for kingdom transformation sadly poor teaching and great misunderstanding have led many christians to reject any notion of so called dominion theology this has left the dominion mandate that jesus imparted to all believers woefully unfulfilled dr c peter wagner understood that the reformation of society was never intended to come through man's ideas and agendas it could only be achieved through bold empowered believers intentional about reforming their culture through kingdom principles and vision the strategic keys and revelation dr wagner presents in dominion are perhaps more relevant today than when he first penned them a collection of the original book release and its revised edition this new edition of dominion features dr wagner's helpful perspective on theocracy and the tragic misunderstanding of dominion theology discover vital keys to exercising authority over the powers of darkness and advancing the kingdom of god through teachings on entering the second apostolic age and the move of god that is presently upon us becoming the church in the workplace by releasing heaven's influence and solutions into the marketplace embracing the practice of spiritual warfare by encouraging believers to exercise jesus authority over darkness anticipating the prophesied great transfer of wealth and its role in shaping culture we stand in a pivotal hour of history where there is both tremendous need and opportunity for the church to bring powerful reformation to all spheres of society this is the hour to step into your authority and release god's glory into every segment of your society this is the hour for transformation this book puts together contributions of linguists and psycholinguists whose main interest here is the representation of semitic words in the mental lexicon of semitic language speakers the central topic of the book confronts two views about the morphology of semitic words the point of the argument is should we see semitic words morphology as root based or word based the proponents of the root based approach present empirical evidence demonstrating that semitic language speakers are sensitive to the root and the template as the two basic elements bound morphemes of semitic words those supporting the word based approach present arguments to the effect that semitic word formation is not based on the merging of roots and templates but that semitic words are comprised of word stems and affixes like we find in indo european languages the variety of evidence and arguments for each claim should force the interested readers to reconsider their views on semitic morphology
