jukka gronow s book deciphering markets and money solves the problem of the specific social conditions of an economic order based on money and the equal exchange of commodities gronow scrutinizes the relation of sociology to neoclassical economics and reflects on how sociology can contribute to the analyses of the major economic institutions the question of the comparability and commensuration of economic objects runs through the chapters of the book the author shows that due to the multidimensionality and principal quality uncertainty of products markets would collapse without market devices that are either procedural consisting of technical standards and measuring instruments or aesthetic relying on the judgements of taste or both in his book gronow demonstrates that in this respect financial markets share the same problem as the markets of wines movies or pcs and mobile phones and hence offer a highly actual case to study their social constitution in the process of coming into being
