a groundbreaking exploration of how race in america is being redefined the american racial order the beliefs institutions and practices that organize relationships among the nation s races and ethnicities is undergoing its greatest transformation since the 1960s creating a new racial order takes a groundbreaking look at the reasons behind this dramatic change and considers how different groups of americans are being affected through revealing narrative and striking research the authors show that the personal and political choices of americans will be critical to how and how much racial hierarchy is redefined in decades to come the authors outline the components that make up a racial order and examine the specific mechanisms influencing group dynamics in the united states immigration multiracialism genomic science and generational change cumulatively these mechanisms increase heterogeneity within each racial or ethnic group and decrease the distance separating groups from each other the authors show that individuals are moving across group boundaries that genomic science is challenging the whole concept of race and that economic variation within groups is increasing above all young adults understand and practice race differently from their elders their formative memories are 9 11 hurricane katrina and obama s election not civil rights marches riots or the early stages of immigration blockages could stymie or distort these changes however so the authors point to essential policy and political choices portraying a vision not of a postracial america but of a different racial america creating a new racial order examines how the structures of race and ethnicity are altering a nation

using data from the first two phases of the nichd study of early child care the links between maternal employment in the first 12 months of life and cognitive social and emotional outcomes for children at age 3 age 4 5 and first grade are examined families in which mothers worked full time 55 part time 23 or did not work in the first year 22 are compared most families involved non hispanic white children although some analyses did involve african american children structural equation modeling results indicated that on average the associations between first year maternal employment and later cognitive social and emotional outcomes are neutral because negative effects where present are offset by positive effects the results confirmed that maternal employment in the first year of life may confer both advantages and disadvantages and that for the average non hispanic white child those effects balance each other
