prominent in commentaries political writings have often been very deeply concerned with both educational theory and practice this invaluable book will introduce the reader to key concepts and disputes surrounding educational themes in the history of political thought the book draws together a fascinating range of educational pioneers and thinkers from the canon of philosophers and philosophical schools from plato and aristotle down to edward carpenter and john dewey with attention along the way paid to both individual authors like thomas hobbes and mary wollstonecraft as well as to intellectual movements such as the scottish enlightenment and the utopian socialists each thinker or group is positioned in their historical context and each chapter addresses the structure of the theory and argument considering both contemporaneous and current controversies a number of themes run throughout the volume an analysis of pedagogy socialisation schooling and university education with particular relation to public and private life and personal and political power references to the historical and intellectual context an overview of the current reception understanding and interpretation of the thinker in question the educational legacy of the theories or theorists this book will be of interest to students researchers and scholars of education as well as students and teachers of political theory the history of political thought and social and political philosophy psychoanalytic perspectives on the films of ingmar bergman presents a contemporary freudian lacanian assessment of this classic director this collection is the first to bring together this unique psychological perspective on bergman s work while bergman and his films have been written about throughout the decades until now there has not been a collection anthologizing freudian lacanian perspectives on his work vanessa sinclair brings together an international community of scholars and practicing psychoanalysts some of whom are also filmmakers to reflect on bergman s films life and work in philosophical historical and cultural contexts they assess individual films in depth compare multiple films and focus on bergman s life and work in a cultural context this book includes chapters on seminal films including persona and the silence psychoanalytic perspectives on the films of ingmar bergman will be essential reading for academics and students of film studies psychoanalytic theory and lacan and of great interest to psychoanalysts and psychotherapists advice on careers achieving success this book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 6th conference on computability in europe cie 2010 held in ponta delgada azores portugal in june july 2010 the 28 revised papers presented together with 20 invited lectures were carefully reviewed and selected from 90 submissions the papers address not only the more established lines of research of computational complexity and the interplay between proofs and computation but also novel views that rely on physical and biological processes and models to find new ways of tackling computations and improving their efficiency an architectural investigation of the buildings in salisbury close which studies the history behind the facade this is a carefully studied and analyzed inventory which brings together a range of information from archives and records illustrating it with drawings and photographs robert mugabe came to power in zimbabwe in 1980 after a long civil war in rhodesia the white minority government had become an international outcast in refusing to give in to the inevitability of black majority rule finally the defiant white prime minister ian smith was forced to step down and mugabe was elected president initially he promised reconciliation between white and blacks encouraged zimbabwe s economic and social development and was admired throughout the world as one of the leaders of the emerging nations and as a model for a transition from colonial leadership but as martin meredith shows in this history of mugabe s rule mugabe from the beginning was sacrificing his purported ideals and zimbabwe s potential to the goal of extending and cementing his autocratic leadership over time mugabe has become ever more dictatorial and seemingly less and less interested in the welfare of his people treating zimbabwe s wealth and resources as spoils of war for his inner circle in recent years he has unleashed a reign of terror and corruption in his country like the congo angola rwanda sierra leone and liberia zimbabwe has been on a steady slide to disaster now for the first time the whole story is told in detail by an expert it is a riveting and tragic political story a morality tale and an essential text for understanding today s africa describes the college admissions process covering such topics as standardized tests advanced placement choosing a college applications interviews and recommendation letters funeral monuments are fascinating and diverse cultural relics that continue to captivate visitors to english churches yet we still know relatively little about the messages they attempt to convey across the centuries this book is a study of the material culture of memory in sixteenth and seventeenth century england by interpreting the images and inscriptions on monuments to the dead it explores how early modern people wanted to be remembered their social vision cultural ideals religious beliefs and political values arguing that early modern english monuments were not simply formulaic statements about death and memory dr sherlock instead reveals them to be deliberately crafted messages to future generations through careful reading of monuments he shows that much can be learned about how men and women conceived of the world around them and shifting concepts of gender social order and the place of humans within the universe in post reformation england the dead became superior to the living as monuments trumpeted their fame and their confidence in the resurrection this study aims to stimulate historians to attempt to reconstruct and engage with the world view of past generations through the unique and under utilised medium of funeral monuments in so doing it is hoped that more light may be shed on how memory was created controlled and contested in pre modern society and encourage the on going debate about the ways in which understandings of the past shape the present and future lord salisbury 1830 1903 is now a subject of intense historical attention this important study moves away from conventional biography and presents an original portrait of the mental world inhabited by late victorian conservatives at the time when their world view was coming under severe strain at the centre of the picture is the 3rd marquess of salisbury but lord salisbury s world does not simply tell the story of his life and politics instead it asks sensitive questions about how the political intellectual and religious environments of the late victorian period seemed to one of its sharpest intellects and it situates salisbury and his immediate entourage in a wide landscape of relationships perceptions and problems professor bentley takes the reader into conservative assumptions about time and space property and society religion and the state and the past and the future the very language in which they expressed themselves robert mugabe came to power in zimbabwe in 1980 after a long civil war in rhodesia the white minority government had become an international outcast in refusing to give in to the inevitability of black majority rule finally the defiant white prime minister ian smith was forced to step down and mugabe was elected president initially he promised reconciliation between white and blacks encouraged zimbabwe s economic and social development and was admired throughout the world as one of the leaders of the emerging nations and as a model for a transition from colonial leadership but as martin meredith shows in this history of mugabe s rule mugabe from the beginning was sacrificing his purported ideals and zimbabwe s potential to the goal of extending and cementing his autocratic leadership over time mugabe has become ever more dictatorial and seemingly less and less interested in the welfare of his people treating zimbabwe s wealth and resources as spoils of war for his inner circle in recent years he has unleashed a reign of terror and corruption in his country like the congo angola rwanda sierra leone and liberia zimbabwe has been on a steady slide to disaster now for the first time the whole story is told in detail by an expert it is a riveting and tragic political story a morality tale and an essential text for understanding today s africa funeral monuments are fascinating and diverse cultural relics that continue to captivate visitors to english churches yet we still know relatively little about the messages they attempt to convey across the centuries this book is a study of the material culture of memory in sixteenth and seventeenth century england by interpreting the images and inscriptions on monuments to the dead it explores how early modern people wanted to be remembered their social vision cultural ideals religious beliefs and political values arguing that early modern english monuments were not simply formulaic statements about death and memory dr sherlock instead reveals them to be deliberately crafted messages to future generations through careful reading of monuments he shows that much can be learned about how men and women conceived of the world around them and shifting concepts of gender social order and the place of humans within the universe in post reformation england the dead became superior to the living as monuments trumpeted their fame and their confidence in the resurrection this study aims to stimulate historians to attempt to reconstruct and engage with the world view of past generations through the unique and under utilised medium of funeral monuments in so doing it is hoped that more light may be shed on how memory was created controlled and contested in pre modern society and encourage the on going debate about the ways in which understandings of the past shape the present and future lord salisbury 1830 1903 is now a subject of intense historical attention this important study moves away from conventional biography and presents an original portrait of the mental world inhabited by late victorian conservatives at the time when their world view was coming under severe strain at the centre of the picture is the 3rd marquess of salisbury but lord salisbury s world does not simply tell the story of his life and politics instead it asks sensitive questions about how the political intellectual and religious environments of the late victorian period seemed to one of its sharpest intellects and it situates salisbury and his immediate entourage in a wide landscape of relationships perceptions and problems professor bentley takes the reader into conservative assumptions about time and space property and society religion and the state and the past and the future the very language in which they expressed themselves
