since the publication of samuel huntington s the clash of civilizations concern about civilization has been reintroduced into the debate on the world order malek bennabi 1905 1973 prominent algerian thinker and great muslim intellectual intently focused on unravelling the causes of muslim decline and the success of western civilization and culture the key problem he theorized lay not in the qur an or islamic faith but in muslims themselves the author investigates bennabi s approach to civilization and the fundamental principles drawn using metatheorizing methodology in doing so he sheds further light on perhaps one of the more intriguing elements of bennabi s theory that civilization is governed by internal external and social intellectual factors and that an equation can be generated for civilization itself this equation of man soil time civilization and of which religion according to bennabi forms the all important catalyst is explained and its significance in terms of the reversal of muslim decline evaluated what is clearly apparent is that for bennabi man is the central force in any civilizing process and without him the other two elements are of no value with regard to outcomes bennabi s unerring conviction that unless muslims changed their spiritual condition they could not effect any far reaching meaningful change in society is echoed in the qur anic verse verily never will allah change the condition of a people until they change what is in themselves 13 11

the best of hard times explores the gendered identities of two generations of men in the shatila palestinian refugee camp in beirut gustavo barbosa compares the fida iyyin the men who served as freedom fighters to reconquer palestine in the 1970s to the shabab their sons who lead seemingly mundane lives with limited access to power while the fida iyyinn displayed their masculinity through active resistance and fighting to return to their homeland the shabab have a more nuanced relationship to palestine and articulate their gender belonging in alternative ways through vivid ethnographic stories barbosa critically engages with certain trends in feminism calling attention to their limits and considering nimble views on gender instead of presenting the shabab as emasculated or experiencing a crisis of masculinity the book shows the pliability of masculinity in time and space and argues that gender has limited purchase to capture the experiences of today s youth from shatila based on two years of fieldwork the best of hard times answers the burgeoning demand for anthropological literature on arab masculinities and portrays refugees as inventive actors rather than agentless victims of circumstances beyond their control the best of hard times is a tour de force combining highbrow theory with gripping ethnography challenging many of the stereotypes on gender power statehood and the role of islam in the middle east
