Economics of Land Degradation and Improvement - A Global Assessment for Sustainable Development 2015-11-11 this volume deals with land degradation which is occurring in almost all terrestrial biomes and agro ecologies in both low and high income countries and is stretching to about 30 of the total global land area about three billion people reside in these degraded lands however the impact of land degradation is especially severe on livelihoods of the poor who heavily depend on natural resources the annual global cost of land degradation due to land use and cover change lucc and lower cropland and rangeland productivity is estimated to be about 300 billion usd sub saharan africa ssa accounts for the largest share 22 of the total global cost of land degradation only about 38 of the cost of land degradation due to lucc which accounts for 78 of the us 300 billion loss is borne by land users and the remaining share 62 is borne by consumers of ecosystem services off the farm the results in this volume indicate that reversing land degradation trends makes both economic sense and has multiple social and environmental benefits on average one us dollar investment into restoration of degraded land returns five us dollars the findings of the country case studies call for increased investments into the rehabilitation and restoration of degraded lands including through such institutional and policy measures as strengthening community participation for sustainable land management enhancing government effectiveness and rule of law improving access to markets and rural services and securing land tenure the assessment in this volume has been conducted at a time when there is an elevated interest in private land investments and when global efforts to achieve sustainable development objectives have intensified in this regard the results of this volume can contribute significantly to the ongoing policy debate and efforts to design strategies for achieving sustainable development goals and related efforts to address land degradation and halt biodiversity loss

The Paradox of a Global USA 2007-05-04 the paradox of a global usa describes the vexed relationship between the united states and globalization on the one hand the u s has vociferously promoted modernization and open markets both central components of the process of globalization on the other hand it appears to be resolutely determined not to live within an institutional framework of globalized authority as the world s only superpower the united states is often perceived as championing its own narrow national sovereignty for example by opposing the kyoto protocol and the international criminal court and by taking action in iraq outside the auspices of the un the book treats the paradox of american exceptionalism and globalization as a local happening within the broader process of globalization these essays analyze the ways in which the usa has both played a role in and reacted against emerging present day globalization examples are drawn from the fields of history political science cultural studies and economics making this collection one of the very few to link together so diverse a group of authors and approaches to the subject of global usa

The Idea of Humanity in a Global Era 2008-12-22 the result of a lifetime of research and contemplation on global phenomena this book explores the idea of humanity in the modern age of globalization tracking the idea in the historical philosophical legal and political realms this is a concise and illuminating look at a concept that has defined the twentieth century

Laws of Rise and Demise 2013-07-30 rise and demise of nations are man made and can be humanly controlled these are neither naturally determined nor divinely fated this book captures the root process presiding over the problems challenges and the opportunities nations of the world face today america has a three dimensional problem its process controls have equated its purpose controls internally it has developed integration energy traps externally it has created a dangerously interest based world order america must move to the next level of human collectivity or an armageddon might hit us all within the next few decades the muslims idea of state is too invalid antiquated and perilously anti liberty to allow large political systems to evolve in the islamic world it has been incessantly sinking back into anarchy the arab spring is continuation of medieval chaotic and identity based shift of power devoid of value and political mass with the given trends the world must be ready for more talibans bin ladens and al qaedas possibly equipped with weapons of mass destruction india and china have big n factor but at controls level unsustainability afflicts china and an age old identity clamp is failing india both nations will see reversals in near future china must realize that economic future is a component of political future not the other way round india must understand that democracy divorced from political creativity leads back to tyranny and anarchy the basis of the entire debate is integration energy theory which explains the reality of human togetherness in a timeless and non spatial manner
