her sister s apartment with an entire trunk of costumes and props amanda wingfield the glass menagerie directed her son on how to eat and tries to make her daughter act like a southern belle this book variation on repetition combined with transformation each chapter takes a detailed reading of one play and its variation on repetition and transformation specific topics include reproduction in sweet bird of youth 1959 mediation in something cloudy something clear 1981 and how the playwright frequently recycled previous works of art including his own this handbook offers a multiform sweep of cliffs pandering to the masses a misrepresentation and rhoda in potatoland her fall starts what happens when cultural memory becomes a commodity who owns the memory in the memory marketplace emilie pine explores how memory is performed both in ireland and abroad by considering the significant body of contemporary irish theatre that contends with its own culture and history analyzing examples from this realm of theatre pine focuses on the idea of witnesses both as performers on stage and as members of the audience whose memories are observed in these transactions and how and why do performances prioritize some memories over others what does it mean to create rehearse perform and purchase the theatricalization of memory the memory marketplace shows this transaction to be particularly fraught in the theatricalization of traumatic moments of cultural upheaval such as the child sexual abuse scandal in ireland in these performances the role of empathy becomes key within the marketplace dynamic and pine argues that this empathy shapes the kinds of witnesses created the complexities and nuances of this exchange subject and witness spectator and performer consumer and commodified provide a deeper understanding of the crucial role theatre plays in shaping public understanding of trauma memory and history the writers of these chapters are often working with changing assumptions about literary and media interpretations of an american west here we see critical approaches to a west that never was a west of myth so enduring that the myth dominates nearly all artistic representation about this place that never was in this collection we see critical approaches to a new west a west that is a state of mind not a geographical place but a mythic space with no boundaries and no political inevitabilities these new western studies accept the idea of a west that includes canada mexico alaska and in the case of the us every geographic and historical point west of the historic founding settlements the west we study today is a post west an idea of the west past the traditional views of an old west dominated by white us nationalism and gendered as uncompromisingly masculine the idea itself of a single west no longer holds validity we now understand that all renderings of the west are renderings of multiple wests wests constructed by american nationalists wests constructed by euroamerican writers and filmmakers wests constructed by native peoples or wests constructed outside the geographical boundaries of the us this collection presents an eclectic array of new scholarship ranging freely over the new wests and post wests dealing with issues such as the literature of a 1950s california west eco crime genre fiction the west of edward dorn and the beat movement images of prostitution in california gold rush literature european perspectives on film representations of the first peoples the six shooter and the american west german westerns and italian westerns the authentic death of hendry jones by charles neider and films such as the treasure of sierra madre into the wild there will be blood and the last picture show a unique aspect of this collection is the range of writers interpreting the american west in film and literature besides those writing from within the united states five of the writers provide international perspectives from the united kingdom and the universities of tunis vienna and rome each chapter includes a review of scholarship on its subject and an extended bibliography for further research albee and influence contains essays written by leading albee scholars that focus on literary and philosophical influences on edward albee s plays as well as essays on writers and works that albee influenced from legends like eugene o neill tennessee williams and arthur miller to successful present day playwrights like neil labute tony kushner and david mamet some of the most important names in the history of theater are from the past 80 years contemporary american theater has produced some of the most memorable beloved and important plays in history including death of a salesman a streetcar named desire barefoot in the park our town the crucible a raisin in the sun and the odd couple historical dictionary of contemporary american theater presents the plays and personages movements and institutions and cultural developments of the american stage from 1930 to 2010 a period of vast and almost continuous change it covers the ever changing history of the american theater with emphasis on major movements persons plays and events this is done through a chronology an introductory essay an extensive bibliography and over 1 500 cross referenced dictionary entries this book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the history of american theater much like mr miller quentin is a witness to alarming public and personal catastrophes the stock market crash the holocaust the mccarthy witchhunts and the self destruction of a show business idol to whom he is married new york times haunted by past romantic failures quentin a new york city jewish intellectual retreats into his mind as he debates marrying for a third time as he revisits past loves and losses his mind and memory fragments under philosophical questions are our failures really just our own or is possible to hide away from the mistakes of the past one of miller s most personal plays after the fall takes place almost entirely inside the mind of the play s protagonist who is often read as a stand in for the playwright himself touching on themes of the holocaust mccarthyism and inherited sin the play is one of the most discussed within miller s canon this methuen drama student edition is edited by ramón espejo romero with commentary and notes that explore the play s production history including excerpts from an interview with michael blakemore former associate director of the royal national theatre as well as the dramatic thematic and academic debates that surround it over the past two decades theatre practitioners across the west have turned to documentary modes of performance making to confront new socio political realities the essays in this book place this work in context exploring historical and contemporary examples of documentary and verbatim theatre and applying a range of critical perspectives examining the work of the elizabethan playwright robert greene this book argues that greene s plays are innovative in their use of spectacle its most striking feature is the use of the one to one analogies between greene s drama and modern cinema in order to explore the plays stage effects the book offers a collection of papers that draw on contemporary developments in cultural studies in their discussions of postmillennial trends in works of anglophone literature and media the first section of the book addressing the theories of a new cultural paradigm comprises ten essays that present respectively performatist metamodernist digimodernist and hypomodernist readings of selected texts in order to test the usefulness of recent theories in explorations of the new paradigm in literary media and food studies the papers cover a wide variety of genres including the novel the film the documentary the cookbook the food magazine and the food commercial and present a number of themes which shed light on the nature of the new paradigm the second part of the volume mapping the dynamics of a new sensibility offers a wider perspective and presents seven papers that search for evidence of a new sensibility in selected examples of postmillennial texts these contributions move beyond the frameworks of the theories explored in the first part in order to offer new perspectives in the contributors respective fields of interest in brian friel s writing the distinction between public and private is closely linked to the concepts of home family identity and truth this study examines the characters excessive introspection and their deep seated need to disclose their most intimate knowledge and private truths to define who they are and thus to oppose dominant discourse or avoid heteronomy this study begins by investigating how a number of anglo irish writers publicised their characters private versions of truth thereby illustrating what they perceived to be the space of irishness the book then focuses on friel s techniques of sharing his character s private views to demonstrate how he adopted and adapted these practices in his own oeuvre as the characters superficial inarticulateness and their vivid inner selves are repeatedly juxtaposed in friel s texts his oeuvre quintessentially displays a great unease with the concepts of communication and absolute truth this book discusses how american literary modernism and postmodernism interconnect memory and identity and if and how the intertwining of memory and identity has been related to the dominant socio cultural trends in the united states or the specific historical contexts in the world the book s opening chapter is the interrogation of the narrator s memories of jay gatsby and his life in f scott fitzgerald s the great gatsby the second chapter shows how in william faulkner s light in august memory impacts the search for identities in the storylines of the characters the third chapter discusses the correlation between memory self and culture in tennessee williams s a streetcar named desire discussing robert coover s gerald s party the fourth chapter reveals that memory and identity are contextualized and that cognitive processes including memory are grounded in the body s interaction with the environment featuring dehumanized characters whose identities appear as role plays the subsequent chapter is the analysis of how jonathan safran foer s everything is illuminated deals with the heritage of holocaust memories and postmemories the last chapter focuses on thomas pynchon s against the day the reconstructive nature of memory and the politics and production of identity in southeastern europe provides a comprehensive guide to american dramatic literature from its origins in the early days of the nation to american classics such as arthur miller s death of a salesman and thornton wilder s our town to the groundbreaking works of today s best writers classical memories is an intervention into the field of adaptation studies taking the example of classical reception to show that adaptation is a process that can be driven by and produce intertextual memories i see classical memories as a memory driven type of adaptation that draws on and reproduces schematic and otherwise de contextualised conceptions of antiquity and its cultural exports in broadly speaking the twentieth and twenty first centuries these memory driven adaptations differ often in significant ways from more traditional adaptations that seek to either continue or deconstruct a long running tradition that can be traced back to antiquity as well as its canonical points of reception in later ages when investigating such a popular and widespread set of narratives characters and images like those that remain of graeco roman antiquity terms like adaptation and reception could and should be nuanced further to allow us to understand the complex interactions between modern works and classical antiquity in more detail particularly when it pertains to postcolonial or post digital classical reception in classical memories i propose that understanding certain types of adaptations as intertextual memories allows us to do just that the routledge handbook of shakespeare and memory introduces this vibrant field of study to students and scholars whilst defining and extending critical debates in the area the book begins with a series of critical introductions offering an overview of memory in particular areas of shakespeare such as theatre print culture visual arts post colonial adaptation and new media these essays both introduce the topic but also explore specific areas such as the way in which shakespeare s representation in the visual arts created a national and then a global poet the entries then develop into more specific studies of the genre of shakespeare with sections on tragedy history comedy and poetry which include insightful readings of specific key plays the book ends with a state of the art review of the area charting major contributions to the debate and illuminating areas for further study the international range of contributors explore the nature of memory in religious political emotional and economic terms which are not only relevant to shakespearean times but to the way we think and read now this cutting edge title explores how narrating the past both conflicts and creates an interesting relationship with drama s continuing present that arcs towards an unpredictable future theatre both brings the past alive and also fixes it but through the performance process allowing the past to be molded for future not yet existent audiences ghosts haunt the stages of world theatre appearing in classical greek drama through to the plays of 21st century dramatists tracing the phenomenon across time and in different cultures the chapters collected here examine their representation dramatic function and what they may tell us about the belief systems of their original audiences and the conditions of theatrical production as illusions of illusions they foreground many dramatic themes common to a wide variety of periods and cultures arranged chronologically this collection examines how ghosts represent political change in athenian culture in three plays by aeschylus their function in traditional japanese drama the staging of the supernatural in the dramatic liturgy of the early middle ages ghosts within the dramatic works of middleton george peele and christopher marlowe and the technologies employed in the 18th and 19th centuries to represent the supernatural on stage coverage of the dramatic representation of ghosts in the 20th and 21st centuries includes studies of noël coward s blithe spirit august wilson s pittsburgh cycle plays by sam shepard david mamet and sarah ruhl paddy chayefsky s the tenth man suzan lori parks topdog underdog and the spectral imprint of shakespeare s ghosts in the irish drama of marina carr martin mcdonagh william butler yeats and samuel beckett the volume closes by examining three contemporary american indigenous plays by anishinaabe author alanis king a selectively comprehensive bibliography of the vast literature about samuel beckett s dramatic works arranged for the efficient and convenient use of scholars on all levels script analysis for actors directors and designers teaches the skills of script analysis using a formalist approach that examines the written part of a play to gauge how the play should be performed and designed treatments of both classic and unconventional plays are combined with clear examples end of chapter questions and stimulating summaries that will allow actors directors and designers to immediately incorporate the concepts and processes into their theatre production work now thoroughly revised the fifth edition contains a new section on postmodernism and postdramatic methods of script analysis along with additional material for designers twenty years after tony kushner s influential angels in america seemed to declare a revitalized potency for the popular political play there is a no politics prejudice undermining us production and writing this book explores the largely unrecognized cultural patterns that discourage political playwriting on the contemporary american stage the palgrave macmillan dictionary of women to remember me but how did people remember around 1600 and how do we remember now shakespeare and memory brings together classical and early modern sources theatre history performance material culture and cognitive psychology and neuroscience in order to explore ideas about memory in shakespeare s plays and poems it argues that when shakespeare was writing ideas about memory were undergoing a kind of crisis as both the technologies of memory print the theatre itself and the belief structures underpinning ideas about memory underwent rapid change and it suggests that this crisis might be mirrored in our own time when despite all the increasing gadgetry at our disposal memory can still be recovered falsified corrupted or wiped only we ourselves can remember but the workings of memory remain mysterious shakespeare and memory draws on works from all stages of shakespeare s career with a particular focus on hamlet the sonnets twelfth night and the winter s tale it considers some little things what s hamlet writing on and why does orsino think he smells violets and it asks some big questions how should the dead be remembered what s the relationship between memory and identity and is it art above all that enables love and beauty memory and identity to endure in the face of loss time and death

Memory and Identity in Modern and Postmodern American Literature 2015-04-22 classical memories is an intervention into the field of adaptation studies taking the example of classical reception to show that adaptation is a process that can be driven by and produce intertextual memories i see classical memories as a memory driven type of adaptation that draws on and reproduces schematic and otherwise de contextualised conceptions of antiquity and its cultural exports in broadly speaking the twentieth and twenty first centuries these memory driven adaptations differ often in significant ways from more traditional adaptations that seek to either continue or deconstruct a long running tradition that can be traced back to antiquity as well as its canonical points of reception in later ages when investigating such a popular and widespread set of narratives characters and images like those that remain of graeco roman antiquity terms like adaptation and reception could and should be nuanced further to allow us to understand the complex interactions between modern works and classical antiquity in more detail particularly when it pertains to postcolonial or post digital classical reception in classical memories i propose that understanding certain types of adaptations as intertextual memories allows us to do just that
