in this book dr dominika oramus reads j g ballard s fiction and some of his non fiction as a record of the gradual internal degeneration of western civilization in the second half of the twentieth century in sundry ways and styles ballard s ostensibly very heterogeneous oeuvre depicts the same intangible catastrophe that has happened to the world contemporary reality is thus presented in his late prose as post apocalyptic though we are not literally living amidst the ruins the golden age is far behind us and we are witnessing the twilight of the west oramus achieves two aims in this study first the revelation of the grave new world that imaginary territory ballard describes in his books which is a combination of the turn of the millennium world intertextual allusions to both fiction and non fiction and ballard s projections for the near future with its sociological idiosyncrasies oramus shows that no matter which literary conventions ballard applies in a given text science fiction speculative fiction detective story thriller war novel or any other he charts the very same territory and remains throughout primarily interested in the reaction of the human mind to the post world war ii reality which is the common denominator of his diverse obsessions second she sheds light on the spiritual condition and social problems of contemporary western civilization as seen by ballard its ever so inquisitive member her technique in approaching ballard is that of textual analysis and a close readings of passages of his texts that best show his exuberant stylistics sometimes she also points out his references to literary and cultural theories as far as said theories are concerned oramus follows ballard s own readings he very often alludes to critical schools and makes his characters discuss fashionable notions and ideas she refers to the same sources mostly psychoanalysts many ballardian characters are psychiatrists but also historians and recent cultural theorists the author of empire of the sun and other acclaimed novels and stories british science fiction writer j g ballard is here given a penetrating analysis his work being explored in terms of its internal coherence its continuity and development and its mythic and metaphysical aspects ballard s fiction is widely considered to be a critique of our secular rational technological culture but this study departs from earlier ones that label him a fatalistic or nihilistic writer obsessed with entropy devolution and dissolution in showing him instead to be most deeply concerned with the redemption and regeneration of the human psyche with ballard s focus so much on visionary perception and mystical transcendence gregory stephenson argues for his placement in the romantic visionary tradition a comprehensive examination of ballard s work this study traces his output and accomplishments over four decades exploring their thematic development ballard is considered in relation to a number of british and american writers of the post world war ii era within and beyond the often too rigidly applied categorization of science fiction as well as to poets and novelists of the past
