The Nature of Radioactive Fallout and Its Effects on Man 1957 intermediate statistics a conceptual course is a student friendly text for advanced undergraduate and graduate courses it begins with an introductory chapter that reviews descriptive and inferential statistics in plain language avoiding extensive emphasis on complex formulas the remainder of the text covers 13 different statistical topics ranging from descriptive statistics to advanced multiple regression analysis and path analysis each chapter contains a description of the logic of each set of statistical tests or procedures and then introduces students to a series of data sets using spss with screen captures and detailed step by step instructions students acquire an appreciation of the logic of descriptive and inferential statistics and an understanding of which techniques are best suited to which kinds of data or research questions

Intermediate Statistics 2012-08-20 the study is directed toward investigating the effects on pilots rating of large variations l alpha in the relative amplitude and phase of the basic airplane responses to elevator control the effects of l alpha and true speed on longitudinal flying qualities optimum control gain and normal acceleration response to turbulence were investigated in a ground simulator the steady state ratio of normal acceleration to angle of attack was found to be of significance both to the flying qualities of an airplane and to the optimum longitudinal control gain normal acceleration response to rough air was demonstrated to be primarily a function of l alpha and the short period frequency and damping ratio

Effects on young people of violence and crime portrayed on television 1962 research shows that enriching learning experiences such as learning communities service learning undergraduate research internships and senior culminating experiences collectively known as high impact practices hips are positively associated with student engagement deep and integrated learning and personal and educational gains for all students particularly for historically underserved students including first generation students and racially minoritized populations while hips potential benefits for student learning retention and graduation are recognized and are being increasingly integrated across higher education programs much of that potential remains unrealized and their implementation frequently uneven colleges are eager to use the hip nomenclature for recruitment promoting equity for traditionally underserved student populations and preparing lifelong learners and successful professionals however hips defy easy categorization or standardized implementation they rely on fidelity quality and consistency being done well to achieve their learning outcomes and above all require attention to access and equity if they are to fulfill their promise of benefitting all student populations equally the goal of delivering on the promise of high impact practices is to provide examples from around the country of the ways educators are advancing equity promoting fidelity achieving scale and strengthening assessment of their own local high impact practices its chapters bring together the best current scholarship methodologies and evidence based practices within the hips field

Economic Impact of Petroleum Shortages 1974 studies of drought have increased in light of new data availability and advances in spatio temporal analysis however the following gaps still need to be filled 1 methods to characterise drought that explicitly consider its spatio temporal features such as spatial extent area and pathway 2 methods to monitor and predict drought that include the above mentioned characteristics and 3 approaches for visualising and analysing drought characteristics to facilitate interpretation of its variation this research aims to explore analyse and propose improvements to the spatio temporal characterisation of drought outcomes provide new perspectives towards better prediction the following objectives were proposed 1 improve the methodology for characterising drought based on the phenomenon s spatial features 2 develop a visual approach to analysing drought variations 3 develop a methodology for spatial drought tracking 4 explore machine learning ml techniques to predict crop yield responses to drought the four objectives were addressed and results are presented finally a scope was formulated for integrating ml and the spatio temporal analysis of drought proposed scope opens a new area of potential for drought prediction i e predicting spatial drought tracks and areas it is expected that the drought tracking and prediction method will help populations cope with drought and its severe impacts
