PRINCIPLES (A Practical Approach) 2019-03-20

motivational interviewing is a person centered collaborative method for exploring ambivalence and enhancing motivation to change compatible with social work values and ethics it is applicable to the wide range of problems and helping situations with which direct practice social workers are involved one such by product of working with vulnerable and oppressed clients people to whom social work is committed is that social workers are often employed in public agencies with people who have been ordered by the courts to attend services in order to work successfully with mandated populations helpers have to consider how they will access those who initially appear unmotivated to change motivational interviewing provides the stance and the tools to be able to achieve this effectively while maintaining human dignity and respect of the individual and although it can be used as a stand alone model motivational interviewing has also been employed as an initial intervention so that people become more motivated to participate in other services it can be used flexibly on its own or integrated with other more action oriented interventions this workbook with its infusion of examples and numerous exercises will help students and beginning practitioners develop the knowledge and skills to work collaboratively with clients and to build their motivation to change problem behaviors
