New Interchange Resource Book 2 2004-05-10 thomas mcnamara in evolution culture and consciousness presents the first comprehensive theory of human perception and consciousness based on the generally accepted principles of evolutionary psychology this theory building on the best evolutionary research explains that just a few simple neurological changes in the primate brain account for human speech self consciousness and the creation of meaning out of experience all primates can learn but our species evolved a new instinct for learning which makes childhood learning just as powerful as the other biological instincts found in all other primates mcnamara shows that children are genetically programmed to learn not just what to think but how to think shaping the preconscious process for creating meaning out of experience however because our environment has changed radically since our origin this archaic form of consciousness has become a major block to human development and success after explaining how we have all been programmed to preconsciously create meaning out of experience mcnamara shows how we can create a new and more successful way of thinking and feeling resulting in a happier more productive stress free life

LACUS Forum 2001 in light of the rapid fluctuations in oil prices and subsequent impact on the stability and economic perspectives of energy producing and energy importing states in the western hemisphere this book stresses the urgency to integrate sustainability at the very core of national energy security strategies from canada to argentina this edited volume analyzes a series of case studies and diverging paradigms across the continent it underlines how the relatively recent exploitation of unconventional energy sources in north america and the resulting impact on prices impact the geopolitical concerns of traditional producers it also explains how much energy strategies are central to the development of national economies and the stability of their society highlighting the shortcomings in several countries even at a time of high prices the volume makes the case for an inclusive and holistic approach to energy security that would integrate environmental concerns at its very core this edited volume also explains how this new energy independence of the western hemisphere affects its foreign policy with the main international actors in the field of energy whether traditional producers or consumers finally it provides key insights on successful strategy towards the development of alternative sources of energy

Final FRCR Part A Modules 4-6 Single Best Answer MCQS 2021-07-28 this book is about the neuroscience of you and the mind body connection starting with the evolution of awareness the book will explain the theory of mind and how it relates to our ability to recognize ourselves in the mirror in the second part the book will discuss the philosophy of consciousness and how we could create consciousness with artificial intelligence who is this for what is it about what will it do for me this book is for anyone interested in the inner mechanisms that make up you your consciousness your perception of self and your awareness while it raises significant philosophic and scientific questions it is an introductory book and can be read and understood by anyone new to the topic the book explains how our brain evolved over millions of years what damage to our brain can do to our conscious experience of the world and how we could recreate human consciousness in a mechanical system for you the reader the book will provide you with a new perspective on free will consciousness and philosophy imagine one of our ancestors in the distant past sitting near a lake lost in thought she looks into the water and sees her reflection then for the first time in the evolutionary history of humans the question is asked what is this experience i have of myself unbeknownst to her that question would vex humanity through modern times today there is again an entity looking into a proverbial lake and examining its reflection while artificial intelligence is still in its infancy it is on the verge of recognizing itself and asking the same question who am i the closer we come to a machine that seems to be as intelligent as a human being the more we start to worry about our own subjective experience if a computer eventually becomes indistinguishable from us what makes humans special what is our role in the universe if we are so similar to a computer program does your brain need you at all in this book i will examine from the ground up questions about consciousness many steps toward the understanding of the self will tell you nothing about the self until your right hemisphere connects everything into one idea as you understand the concept such an insight is also called an epiphany using a brain scanner we can actually observe someone having an epiphany when the brain s right hemisphere suddenly buzzes with activity while the left hemisphere deals with concrete entities the right hemisphere helps with looking for alternative meanings for example the left hemisphere might identify a bank as a financial institution while the right hemisphere also considers it to be the edge of a river riverbank in the old indo aryan language sanskrit an epiphany leading you to the answer about who you are is called bodhi which literally means awakening or enlightenment similarly the name buddha means the awakened one or the enlightened one a similar idea can be found in zen buddhism as satori which corresponds to a very sudden insight this book shows some of the steps leading to satori combining the insights of philosophers and scientists into a new idea of what the self means with this knowledge we can better reflect on our own values and act according to reality rather than just blindly following someone else s beliefs my goal with the book is to give you an introduction to neuroscience that is not scattered into different parts i aim to focus on helping you to answer the following questions what is the self does your brain even need a self is there a consciousness beyond the body what is this seemingly mysterious subjective experience we share how can we think dream plan feel and make decisions
