rwanda that have led to unprecedented levels of women's political representation reproduction of the original mobilizing woman power by harriot stanton blatch this book offers a timely analysis of the european union convention's impact on domestic political systems and civil society in southern europe with chapters on portugal spain italy greece malta cyprus and turkey examining one of the most hotly debated topics in contemporary politics media and academia the research handbook on populism brings together a diverse range of academics from across the globe to provide a detailed and comprehensive overview of the developing field of populism research although many have tried the spontaneity of the arab spring uprisings and the unpredictability of its diverse geographical outcomes have resisted explanation for social scientists part of the challenge has been how to effectively measure and analyze the empirical data while another obstacle has been a lack of attention to the worldviews value orientations and long term concerns from the people of the middle east and north africa in order to meet these challenges head on mansoor moaddel and michele j gelfand have assembled an international team of experts to explore and employ a new and diverse set of frameworks in order to explain the dynamics of cross national variation values political engagement morality and development in these regions to this end the authors address a wide range of questions such as to what extent do recent events reflect changes in values among the middle eastern publics are youth uniformly more supportive of change than the rest of the population to what extent are changes in values connected to changes in identities how do we explain the process of change in the long term as moaddel and gelfand remark in their book's introduction our hope is that this collective effort will not only contribute to the development of the social sciences in the middle east and north africa but also to practical political actions and public policies that serve social tolerance and harmony peace and economic prosperity for the people of the region to what extent and precisely how are nationalism and patriotism transnational processes youth mobilization in vichy indochina and its legacies analyzes the causes and consequences of state sponsored patriotic youth associations during world war ii in french indochina providing an historical account of the transnational policy process of youth mobilization during world war ii this book describes how officials transplanted french doctrines to indochina with sensitivity toward the varying local political contexts and cultural traditions the french believed they had found there engaging the work of benedict anderson on nationalism in the third world raffin details the mechanisms by which a set of french colonial practices and discourses sponsored by the colonial state promoted nationalism among local youth and helped to lead the countries of the former french indochina toward militaristic regimes this well researched volume provides a valuable contribution to a period of indochinese history that is still little studied and is important reading for students and scholars of colonial history who seek a long term historical perspective on empire and post empire state building provides students executives and managers with vital resources to lead their organizations to higher levels of performance this book is the immediate result of the co operation of a great number of scholars in the netherlands institute of government nig nig is an interuniversity research school as such it has a double task in addition to offering a ph d program to students in public administration it also is a research institute in which a great number of scholars from seven dutch universities participate and work on a common research program the chapters in this book are all products of the research program that started in 1995 this program had the ambition to explore the frontiers of the discipline in two respects first by studying a number of recent developments in society and their consequences for the functioning of government these consequences can be summarised as the development of a system of multi level and multi actor governance second by contributing to the knowledge of institutions both by studying what factors are most important in the formation and change of institutions and by studying the effects of institutions on the behaviour of actors in different political and administrative settings most contributions to this volume either have their origin in conferences organized by the nig or were published as an nig working paper we are grateful to marcia clifford and connie hoekstra the twentieth century however in addition to the military course of the war and its formative and revolutionary ramifications this war was also notable for the social mobilization of the israeli population social mobilization in the arab israeli war of 1948 focuses on these civilian aspects of the war the involvement of the israeli home front in the fighting and the participation of society in the process of mobilization israeli civil society organizations played an active and central role in mobilizing the economy for the war effort mobilizing personnel for military service for labor and for the emergency services and in organizing the home front the function of israeli society and civil organizations in processes of mobilization conducted against the background of the end of the british mandate and the establishment of the state of israel was one of the principal factors that contributed to the israeli military victory in the 1948 war civilian aspects of the 1948 war have received little attention despite the opening of the archives
