in this major collection of his essays alberto manguel whom george steiner has called the casanova of reading argues that the activity of reading in its broadest sense defines our species we come into the world intent on finding narrative in everything writes manguel landscape the skies the faces of others the images and words that our species create reading our own lives and those of others reading the societies we live in and those that lie beyond our borders reading the worlds that lie between the covers of a book are the essence of a reader on reading the thirty nine essays in this volume explore the crafts of reading and writing the identity granted to us by literature the far reaching shadow of jorge luis borges to whom manguel read as a young man and the links between politics and books and between books and our bodies the powers of censorship and intellectual curiosity the art of translation and those numinous memory palaces we call libraries also figure in this remarkable collection for manguel and his readers words in spite of everything lend coherence to the world and offer us a few safe places as real as paper and as bracing as ink to grant us room and board in our passage excerpt from wheeler s graded readers a first reader it is of the utmost importance that a child s first steps in reading should be taken in the right direction a child does not learn to speak a word by hearing it once and he will not learn to recognize the printed form of a word by seeing it once he acquired his colloquial vocabulary slowly at first and by the aid of constant repetition in this way and in this way only will he learn to recognize words in print it should not be forgotten that in the early years of his training the child is forming habits of reading and of thought by which he will be aided for the rest of his life or of which he will by and by have to cure himself with painful effort the end of learning to read is the ability to read great books but what shall the child s first reading book be some of our educational wise men say that it should be filled with classic literature and that it should contain nothing which is not strictly classic this sounds well but these wise men have failed to produce the strictly classic first reader about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
