The Behavioral Advantage 2004-05-12 in their book winning behavior terry bacon and david pugh showed how great companies outperform good ones through behavioral differentiation going beyond superior products and dependable service to connect with customers at every touchpoint the behavioral advantage broadens the concept applying behavioral differentiation to the business to business arena the best b2b companies depend on a multifront approach to business interaction and the behavioral advantage reveals the secrets behind what is essentially a chess game with competitors to win the game companies must develop a carefully plotted opening game with all internal values policies practices and behaviors fully aligned a smart and efficient middle game lets the company build and strengthen its position and the endgame assures victory and lays the groundwork for future business just as individual customers do b2b customers remember those companies whose behavior consistently and significantly outshines even strong competitors these firms create a lasting advantage and reap the profits that come with it

Report on the NHS Summarised Accounts, 2006-07 2008 the department of health the department and the nhs achieved a surplus of 515 million in 2006 07 representing 0.6 per cent of total available resources this followed two years of rising deficits and the department working with the nhs has done well in restoring overall financial balance while the national picture is one of financial surplus there remain variations in financial performance the surplus is concentrated in strategic health authorities whilst overall primary care trusts and nhs trusts remain in deficit of the 372 nhs organisations 82 recorded a deficit of 917 million with 80 per cent of this being reported by just 10 per cent of nhs organisations there are also regional variations with the east of england strategic health authority area having a deficit of 153 million and the north west achieving a 189 million surplus financial recovery is therefore inconsistent and more needs to be done so that all parts of the nhs achieve financial balance the committee concludes that the return to financial balance is the result of the department s tighter performance management of nhs finances in the way funding flowed through the nhs together with a programme of support for local organisations with particular financial difficulties in the short term this largely centralist approach was appropriate for the future if the nhs is to remain in financial balance more health organisations locally need to improve their financial management failure to keep a tight grip on financial performance will undermine health care for patients
