shake off rote religiosity and tribalism with a spicy bite of god's truth seasoned with an authentic connection to his love and his people let me do something for you Carrie Stephens offers these words of hope from the heart of God in Jesus Love Tacos as she uses vibrant metaphors and comical self-deprecation to tell the story of lordship, community, and mission. These three ancient values will offer you help and hope as they shape your spiritual life, define how to gather in unity, and lead you to God's missional love in action in the face of fear, sickness, and increasing polarization. Carrie provides a fresh encounter with the lordship of Jesus to right-size your expectations and transform your view of your life by looking at the example of the early church. You'll find yourself brave enough to swallow your insecurities and forge ahead into the sometimes painful world of the church where healing and life happen through God's faithfulness in this world of never-ending suffering and neediness. Reconsider the call to missional living afresh. Living with a mission will reinvigorate your connection to God and others where you'll find unexpected meaning and surprising opportunities when you reach for the plates of truth and grace offered in these pages. You'll reconnect with a God beyond your comprehension who is intimately involved in the details of your life.

Gloria Sanchez was never a baseball fan that is until she saw the new pitcher for the Texas Rangers David Gutierrez on television. At least he was handsome and exceptionally charming. As soon as she saw him, Gloria developed a true interest in the sport. When he comes to the taco truck where she works before his first big game, Gloria can hardly believe her luck. Luck, it turns out, is exactly what David is hoping Gloria can give him. He has a tradition that's won him games ever since he was in high school: he always buys two dozen breakfast tacos the morning of a big game. He doesn't eat all of them, but he has to buy them. If he doesn't, the team may very well lose. His ritual seems well-founded when he makes trips to Gloria's taco truck, a habit the Rangers have won every home game since they met Gloria. Starting to think that she is the reason David keeps coming back, not the tacos, when David asks her to come on a road trip with him and the team with taco-making material in tow, her suspicion seems confirmed. She's convinced that this is more than an attempt to win on the road; this is a real date. But what will happen when Gloria discovers that David is more interested in winning than he is in her?
