the story s narrator montresor tells the story of the day that he took his revenge on fortunato italian for the fortunate one a fellow nobleman to an unspecified person who knows him very well angry over numerous injuries and some unspecified insult he plots to murder his friend during carnival when the man is drunk dizzy and wearing a jester s motley montresor lures fortunato into a private wine tasting excursion by telling him he has obtained a pipe about 130 gallons 492 litres of what he believes to be a rare vintage of amontillado he mentions obtaining confirmation of the pipe s contents by inviting a fellow wine aficionado luchi for a private tasting montresor knows fortunato will not be able to resist demonstrating his discerning palate for wine and will insist that he taste the amontillado rather than Luchesi who as he claims cannot tell amontillado from sherry. Fortunato goes with Montresor to the wine cellars of the latter's palazzo where they wander in the catacombs. Montresor offers wine first, Medoc then de Grave to Fortunato in order to keep him inebriated. Montresor warns Fortunato who has a bad cough of the damp and suggests they go back. Fortunato insists on continuing, claiming that he shall not die of a cough. During their walk, Montresor mentions his family coat of arms: a golden foot in a blue background crushing a snake whose fangs are embedded in the foot's heel with the motto nemo me impune lacessit (no one attacks me with impunity).

A differentiated book it has a historical context with research of the time. The purpose of realizing this historical context is to approach the understanding of a historical epoch from the elements provided by the text. Hence the importance of placing the document in context: it is necessary to unravel what its author or authors have said, how it has been said, when, why, and where, always relating it to its historical moment. The barrel of amontillado. Original title in English: The Cask of Amontillado. Also known as the barrel of amontillado. It is a story of the American writer Edgar Allan Poe published for the first time in 1846 in Fuller's Carnival of some Italian city of the nineteenth century. Montresor seeks Fortunato with the intention of revenge for a past humiliation. Finding him drunk, he finds it easy to convince him to accompany him to his palazzo under the pretext of giving him a new wine. He leads him to the catacombs of the house and there he consumes his revenge.

The thousand injuries of Fortunato I had borne as I best could; but when he ventured upon insult I vowed revenge. You, who so well know the nature of my soul, will not suppose, however, that I gave utterance to a threat. At length I would be avenged; this was a point definitely settled. But the very definitiveness with which it was resolved precluded the idea of risk. I must not only punish, but punish with impunity. A wrong is unredressed when retribution overtakes its redresser. It is equally unredressed when the avenger fails to make himself felt as such to him who has done the wrong. It must be understood that neither by word nor deed had I given Fortunato cause to doubt my good will. I continued as was my wont to smile in his face and he did not perceive that my smile now was at the thought of his immolation

the tell tale heart is a short story by edgar allan poe first published in 1843 it is told by an unnamed narrator who endeavors to convince the reader of his sanity while describing a murder he committed the victim was an old man with a blind vulture eye as the narrator calls it the murder is carefully calculated and the murderer hides the body by dismembering it and hiding it under the floorboards ultimately the narrator s guilt manifests itself in an auditory hallucination the narrator hears the man s heart still beating under the floorboards it is unclear what relationship if any the old man and his murderer share the narrator denies having any feelings of hatred or resentment for the man he tells us i loved the old man he had never wronged me he had never given me insult he also denies the assumption that he killed for greed object there was none for his gold i had no desire it has been suggested that the old man is a father figure the narrator s landlord or that the narrator works for the old man as a servant and that perhaps his vulture eye represents some sort of veiled secret or power the ambiguity and lack of details about the two main characters stand in stark contrast to the specific plot details leading up to the murder the story was first published in james russell lowell s the pioneer in january 1843 the tell tale heart is widely considered a classic of the gothic fiction genre and is one of poe s most famous short stories the cask of amontillado sometimes spelled the casque of amontillado is a short story by edgar allan poe first published in the november 1846 issue of godey s lady s book the story is set in a nameless italian city in an

in his thriller stories edgar allan poe tries to show psychic side of the crime from the inside he is not interested in social roots of the crime but in unmotivated actions that go beyond normal behavior of a person in the society nevertheless in a series of stories while describing the acts committed by characters under influence of contradiction demon or perversion demon poe puts in rational reasons for example the character from the story the black cat understands that his brain is poisoned with alcohol and as a result his mental health and temper were injured but this reasoning is too plain and trivial for the thriller narrating on behalf of the criminal poe brings actions under the control of contradiction demon combination of plans puts volume to the stories the events are at the same time rational and not motivated and incredibly paradoxical edgar allan poe is also famous for such works as the raven the cask of amontillado the fall of the house of usher the masque of the red death the pit and the pendulum the murders in the rue morgue the tell tale heart the gold bug the black cat the facts in the case of m valdemar hop frog and many more
