ellet joseph waggoner 1855 1916 was a leading seventh day adventist preacher and writer he writes the bible was written for no other purpose than to show the way of life it contains history and biography but these are parts of the gospel message not one line is written except to reveal christ whoever reads it for any other purpose than to find in it the way of salvation from sin reads it in vain studied in the light of calvary it is a delight and things that would otherwise be obscure are made clear as the noonday the pages that follow are designed as an aid to all who would look at the precepts and promises of the bible in their true setting one line runs through the entire bible god s everlasting covenant standing at the cross one can see the working of god s eternal purpose which he purposed in christ before the world began the history from paradise lost till paradise restored is set forth as in a panorama

the divine promises to abraham have long been recognized as a key to the book of genesis as a whole but their variety often noted also raises literary and theological problems why do they differ each time and how are they related to each other and to the story of abraham williamson focuses on the promises in genesis 15 and 17 and concludes that they are concerned with two distinct but related issues genesis 15 guarantees god s promise to make abraham into a great nation while genesis 17 focuses chiefly on god s promise to mediate blessing through abraham to the nations the two chapters are connected however by the theme of an individual royal descendant who will come from the nation israel and mediate blessing to all the nations of the earth because god made a promise to abraham concerning inheriting the land of israel a question arises to which line of abrahams descendants was the promise made thats important because they worship different gods this poses the problem who is the true god this is the question of the ages concerning all claims of deity all things of life and death depend on that answer this book addresses questions from the perspective that the god of the bible through abraham isaac and jacob is the true god and the god of true christianity it distinguishes between true and counterfeit christianity the war that started with satans attempt to dethrone god and elevate himself to the almighty is the defining factor of conflict association is made between spiritual determinations and earthly happenings the next earthly event distinguishing where we are in time is the russian invasion of israel the only remaining possibility for satans success is stopping god from keeping his promise to abraham the mid east peace problem is not just about ownership of land but about who is god also addressed doctrines and theories taught in error dispensations covenants and promises are defined how revelation is structured and plays out is explained ne purpose of the book is to cause the reader to think not just about things termed religious but in truth how all things are related especially political hopefully it gives insight on how to prepare mentally spiritually and materially for what scripture says will happen evidence shows we are the generation that experiences the biblical end times and the fulfillment of gods promise to abraham america must choose follow the true god or the satanic one world government the book challenges the true church to reestablish scripture as our highest authority and be about our task includes pictures includes biblical citations includes online resources and a bibliography for further reading the beauty of a spider web cannot be appreciated if only one single strand thereof is seen nor can only one piece of a jigsaw puzzle make the whole thereof understood it is only when all the pieces are fitted that the significance and importance of each part can be appreciated even so the covenant that god established with abraham has its prelude far in the past and its development and consummation reach far into the future the whole of the picture is essential to even just glimpse the incomprehensive nature of god's love longsuffering patience and his persistence in reaching the goal that he had predetermined then we can also appreciate his message through the prophet isaiah my thoughts are not your thoughts nor your ways my ways says jehovah for as the heavens are higher than the earth so are my ways higher than your ways and my thoughts than your thoughts isa 55 8 9 it is because of this that we have the old saying scripture explains scripture this means that where there is uncertainty we can look to the wider context in scripture in order to understand what we are reading at present a very good example of this is that we read in 1cor 10 2 that all the israelites were baptized into moose in the events relating to the cloud and the sea now if we read the story of the exodus from egypt it is clear that there was no physical ritual or ceremony relating to baptism but what is seemingly a contradiction is clearly solved by the rest of scripture in the apostle paul's other letters he makes it clear that he wanted to convey the fact that the israelites identified with moose by following him through the sea and after the cloud as described in ex 13 21 22 and 14 15 31 the abrahamic covenant the establishment development and consummation of the promises made by god to abraham examines the various stages of the abrahamic covenant and how they are all related to man's salvation along with pictures depicting important people places and events you will learn about the abrahamic covenant like never before from god's surprising call to abraham to leave home and family to god's enigmatic commands that he evict one son and sacrifice another genesis 12 25 is one of the most dramatic stories of the old testament in an inviting style that showcases his literary discernment theological sophistication and passion for the biblical text terence e fretheim guides readers through the intricacies of the plot abraham called the father of a multitude gen 17 5 lives up to his name as the patriarch of three major religious traditions fretheim examines abraham's family and assesses the significant roles it plays across judaism christianity and islam in addition fretheim contributes to the increasingly important interreligious dialogue surrounding abraham by examining the continuing conversation among muslims christians and jews about the place of hagar and ishmael in abraham's family relating biblical narrative to theological concerns fretheim wrestles with such controversial concepts as god's selection of an elect people the gift of land and other promises the role of women and outsiders the character of god and the suffering of innocents throughout the text fretheim frames the narrative as rooted in the trials of family and faith that define abraham as the father of three religions read the old testament for the first time again experience it as an actual story for the first time this unique book takes the reader inside the biblical narrative for a fresh encounter with god's word often we read the old testament looking for how each event anticipates the christ which is a bit like reading a detective novel knowing who done it all along here each succeeding episode is allowed to speak on its own terms only building upon what has already happened just like any other story along the way it will be demonstrated how each part of the biblical narrative embodies the three covenantal promises that god made to abraham land many descendants and a blessing to all nations in so doing the inherent narrative framework of the old old story is more fully exposed and the reader is rewarded with a new sense of its profound unity and divine inspiration
