weekly one of the ten best books of the year garth greenwell s what belongs to you appeared in early 2016 and is a short first novel by a young writer still it was not easily surpassed by anything that appeared later in the year it is not just first novelists who will be envious of greenwell s achievement james wood the new yorker on an unseasonably warm autumn day an american teacher enters a public bathroom beneath sofia s national palace of culture there he meets mitko a charismatic young hustler and pays him for sex he returns to mitko again and again over the next few months drawn by hunger and loneliness and risk and finds himself ensnared in a relationship in which lust leads to mutual predation and tenderness can transform into violence as he struggles to reconcile his longing with the anguish it creates he s forced to grapple with his own fraught history the world of his southern childhood where to be queer was to be a pariah there are unnerving similarities between his past and the foreign country he finds himself in a country whose geography and griefs he discovers as he learns more of mitko s own narrative his private history of illness exploitation and want what belongs to you is a stunning debut novel of desire and its consequences with lyric intensity and startling eroticism garth greenwell has created an indelible story about the ways in which our pasts and cultures our scars and shames can shape who we are and determine how we love a conversation between garth greenwell and hanya yanagihara is included inside the e book edition the story begins in longlist for readers of my dark vanessa a mesmerizing disturbing and thoroughly compelling novel about one woman s role in preserving or destroying her famous father s legacy in front of me are hundreds of pages of work already i feel it leaving me he will obliterate what is there replace it deny i ever wrote a word but he cannot take the words i write on my own hillary greene s father once a celebrated author and public figure is now losing his memory and with it his ability to write as her father s primary caretaker each day begins with two eggs boiled and charlie rose or some other host on the ipad screen her father compulsively watches himself in old interviews memorizing his own speech trying to hang on to who he was an aspiring author herself hillary impulsively agrees to ghost write his final work a memoir spanning his career and release it in his name diving deep into her father s past and in turn her own a horrifying truth begins to piece itself together with full control over her father s memoir hillary is faced with a stark choice reveal her father as a monster or preserve his legacy as a respected literary figure but she wonders what writing the truth will do to her and if it will damage her own prospects for a career whichever option she chooses hillary has to deal with the significant pain writing the memoir has re surfaced specifically how the truth about her father adds to her grief over the death of her enigmatic sister pauline for the first time in her life hillary holds the power set in the wake of the metoo and time s up movements what we both know is a visceral intimate and complex novel about confronting the personal and professional consequences and potentially devastating fallout of revealing the truth about a famous man when it comes to writing worldbuilding is like making a cake why a cake because every author starts with the same general ingredients of characters plot and setting but it's how each author combines and adds to those ingredients that makes a book an author's own unique creation this essay offers a few tips and poses some questions for figuring out the things you enjoy and do best as an author so that you can write your own cake whether it's a big bold epic fantasy adventure a subtle nuanced mystery an emotion packed romance or something else note write your own cake is a 2 000 word essay about writing and worldbuilding it first appeared as part of the scribbler subscription box in november 2018 from the new york times bestselling author of the midnight library a quirky romcom dusted with philosophical observations a delightfully witty poignant novel the washington post she smiled a soft troubled smile and i felt the whole world slipping away and i wanted to slip with it to go wherever she was going i had existed whole years without her but that was all it had been an existence a book with no words tom hazard has just moved back to london his old home to settle down and become a high school history teacher and on his first day at school he meets a captivating french teacher at his school who seems fascinated by him but tom has a dangerous secret he may look like an ordinary 41 year old but owing to a rare condition he's been alive for centuries tom has lived history performing with shakespeare exploring the high seas with captain cook and sharing cocktails with fitzgerald now he just wants an ordinary life unfortunately for tom the albatross society the secretive group which protects people like tom has one rule never fall in love as painful memories of his past and the erratic behavior of the society's watchful leader threaten to derail his new life and romance the one thing he can't have just happens to be the one thing that might save him tom will have to decide once and for all whether to remain stuck in the past or finally begin living in the present how to stop time tells a love story across the ages and for the ages about a man lost in time the woman who could save him and the lifetimes it can take to learn how to live it is a bighearted wildly original novel about losing and finding yourself the inevitability of change and how with enough time to learn we just might find happiness soon to be a major motion picture starring benedict cumberbatch the interview is a gripping locked room thriller from c m ewan the acclaimed author of a window breaks and the half a million copy bestseller safe house it's 5 p m on a friday you have been called to an interview for your dream job in a stunning office thirteen floors above the city below you are all alone with the man interviewing you everyone else has gone home for the weekend the interview gets more and more disturbing you're feeling scared your only way out is to answer a seemingly impossible question if you can't what happens next what authors are saying c m ewan never once drops the pace in this heart pounding rollercoaster of a thriller that had me up all night clare mackintosh author of hostage a brilliant hook a breakneck game of cat and mouse and twists galore tim weaver author of the shadow at the door a fast paced twisty read that races along like an action movie sarah pinborough author of insomnia i can't stop thinking about the interview i loved it sarah hilary author of fragile i couldn't put the interview down totally brilliant b a paris author of the therapist a terrifying heart stopping ride sharon bolton author of the split so tense and twisty an absolute nail biter of a novel gilly macmillan author of the long weekend what readers are saying oh boy did i enjoy this book the definition of a keep you up all night read in one sitting thriller i read this beauty in a day had so much else to do but just couldn't put it down wow this book blew me away i was hooked immediately and found the concept both exciting and highly original you guys if you haven't read this book do it now
