Global Journalism 2012-09-17 explores the world of journalism and contains instructions and practical advice on all facets of reporting

Values and Choices in Television Discourse 2014-08-30 the constraints of news production and the consequent limitations of news result directly in dissatisfaction throughout news audiences news stories are frequently found to be inadequately informative to the extent that journalism is more inclined to generate political disenchantment rather than prompt its audiences to pursue a fully engaged level of political participation in their societies journalism and political exclusion provides a multi method integrated analysis of news production and news audiences including a long term study of community activists in a central canadian city during the seven year fieldwork period different groups of research participants completed questionnaires wrote news diaries and were interviewed in their homes while viewing network television newscasts clarke shows that frustrations with the informational limitations of television and other news media are accelerated among women and the working class often lack opportunities to access alternative information sources the critical contribution of journalism to the production and reproduction of ideas about social reality is frequently acknowledged and assumed yet rarely investigated and demonstrated through an examination of the everyday realities of both news production and news reception journalism and political exclusion also shows how the current crises of professional journalism heighten the level of political exclusion experienced by various social groups

Atlantis Rising Magazine Issue 24 – THE PULSAR MYSTERY PDF Download 2019-12-13 indonesia the state with the largest muslim population in the world is in a process of continuous societal transformation from the perspective of media and communication studies recent political developments towards an increasingly consolidated democratic system are of great interest the comparison with germany may seem unusual and asymmetrical the countries differ with regard to the religious and cultural practices and media and social developments are neither intertwined nor similar at first glance a closer look however reveals structural similarities between germany and indonesia dynamics and regressions of political transformation under pressure from radical political movements hyper modernization in parts of the economies and social life worlds of post modern urbanization a heritage of genocides and cultural struggles over the multi ethnic and multi religious fabrics of society the book deals with the role media play in the course of these political economic and cultural transformations do they follow or lead the changes in political systems and societies what can countries learn from each other if they step outside the usual ethnocentric comparisons and engage in a more intense global dialogue the book is a groundbreaking endeavour in comparative media and communication studies and brings together wellknown researchers from hitherto largely separated academic communities
