ReClaimed Church

2018-06-01

it s no secret churches are dying tragically thousands of churches in the united states are shrinking some closing their doors forever the key to reversing these trends argues bill henard is for a local church to recognize where it is in the church life cycle unless churches intentionally do something about it many of them will follow the same pattern from birth to plateau and eventually to death but if a church learns to identify its place within the life cycle and embraces the necessary processes it can return to growth in a day when church membership has decreased evangelistic zeal has cooled and budgets are disappearing reclaimed church is the tool that struggling churches need having previously written and taught seminary courses on church revitalization bill henard uses his expertise to provide all the practical insights and instructions needed to reclaim your church

Thirty-Eight Church Revitalization Models for the Twenty-First Century

2014-09-02

while some church revitalizers see church revitalization models as mere fable others see the validity of having examples and samples to study in the effort to get a glimpse of what god might be saying about how to bring church renewal to their present work regardless of the debate regarding myths for models or strategies for the revitalization churches there appears to be at least six areas and thirty eight strategies that a church seeking renewal could consider

A Guide to Church Revitalization

2015-06-15

the time for revitalization and renewal is now sick and declining churches are all across america and within every denomination with the turn of the twenty first century sustained growth within our churches is an intermittent exception while decline seems to be more of the pronouncement the rank and file of our churches appears powerless to assemble the strength that is needed to get the church growing again the need for training today s minister with the tools and skill sets necessary to combat this rampant plateau and decline is crucial it is time for a new challenge toward revitalization and there is a great need of an army of church revitalizers to work toward revitalizing our churches in north america learn from these two practitioners skill sets and methodologies which will help you turn around your church

The Nuts and Bolts of Church Revitalization

2015-07-29

the hard reality in north america is that most churches and most if not all denominations are in a state of decline the membership within these churches and denominations are plateauing and what used to pass for involvement and activity within churches is deteriorating while all of this is happening the rank and file of the church appears powerless to assemble the strength that is needed to get the churches growing again

The Seven Pillars of Church Revitalization and Renewal

your first 120 days in church revitalization and renewal amazon page you are initiating the beginning of your church s effort towards church revitalization you are to be commended for the willingness to save a church from the pain of loss there are all types of loses for declining churches there is the loss of long time church members who have either moved away or passed on there is the loss of impact in one s community in which the church was planted to serve another loss is the mixture of all ages within your fellowship to what now leans further towards the elderly than the young but perhaps the biggest loss is when your church has not done anything to bring about renewal and eventually it is given away to a church planter which is stranger because the membership and leadership within the church waited too long to act as you look in the mirror ask the lord how you are going to be the catalyst for revitalization in the dear church you serve beginning the process of revitalization and renewal is a critical time for the church revitalizer whether you realize it or not the clock is ticking and the key decisions you make in your initial one hundred and twenty days is imperative while you have some time on your side might i encourage you to begin day one displaying to your lay church leaders that you are there to lead them out of their demise and towards a better future you are there to make a difference and if you do not see yourself up to the task then you should begin developing your exit plan this book on your first 120 days in church revitalization and renewal is deigned to challenge you to release old and outdated theories and methodologies we will continue to declare that the early days where you transition into this new role of church revitalizer is critical and challenging but if you begin well you have established a solid foundation of you as the leader the team you will employ to help you with renewal and the success you will have going forward we should all face it that becoming the leader of a church revitalization effort for the local church is a big challenge it is a chance for you as the church revitalizer and for the church in need of revitalization to make a fresh start and develop a new vision for a better future but for you as the one called to lead the church out of decline it is also a time for intense vulnerability making unwise slipups and blunders are missteps you cannot afford at the beginning of your journey what you do during the opening one hundred and twenty days of your revitalization efforts can either position you for success or jeopardize your leadership which will ultimately lead to failure this new book seeks to identify for you the potential landmines and potholes you will encounter and show you how to avoid them it goes without saying but probably needs to be stated nevertheless that you as the church revitalizer need some early wins in order for the majority of the church to follow your leadership you have been given a great opportunity by the lord to seize the opportunity to bring renewal to your church what you do during the first 120 days sets the stage for the impossible dream to become the possible dream of revitalization and renewal wrestle with these pages and use them as a guide for initiating church revitalization and renewal

Your First 120 Days In Church Revitalization And Renewal

the heart of revitalization is a matter of the heart if you are going to participate in and or lead a process that results in revitalization you will need to address the matters of the heart your heart needs to be ready receptive and open to learning and leading the process of revitalization if i may borrow from the analogy of the farmer sowing seed it is my desire to sow a few seeds from what i have learned experienced and have tried as a journeyman of church renewal restoration and revitalization i share what i do with a prayerful hope that something you read will be helpful in your unique setting and quest to address the need for revival renewal restoration or revitalization i am blessed to be both a student and practitioner of church revitalization leading the church in the revitalization of its spiritual health and ministry effectiveness was a passion god placed in my heart over thirty years ago and like a chinese bamboo tree this desire has been developing below the surface for years and years and now i am asking god for his glory to guide me in expressing my heart and providing his church body his pastors and ministry leaders a helpful resource for addressing revitalization

the lasting solutions to rural america s churches challenges will be found in rural america the rural church in america in the twenty first century must develop new relationships and new ways of doing things to ensure prosperous and socially healthy future but we should not delude ourselves into thinking that the rural american church has so many unique issues in fact most of the challenges facing the rural american church today are often the same challenges for the declining rural urban fringe and extreme urban church seeking renewal and revitalization yet while the challenges are similar the solutions are more unique it has been just a little over a year since i completed my study sabbatical focusing on rural church revitalization our research revealed three profound types of churches among the rural landscape the first type were those churches which were benign these benign churches were 118 33 71 out of the 350 rural churches surveyed benign churches are the churches which have primarily a maintenance mindset which is displayed by very little effort and very low expectations the second type we discovered were the bewildered churches in the rural landscape bewildered churches are those which are so frustrated that they are all but ready to jump off the proverbial bridge these churches were 117 33 43 out of the 350 churches interviewed and surveyed they are not only doing nothing they have no desire to seek renewal or life they are the ones which have the mantra that the last one left alive remember to turn the lights off the third type of rural church our research and interviews revealed are those who are the bold these bold churches along the rural landscape have leaders which operate more as a community watcher and chaplain for the entire region not just a few church members these churches were 115 32 86 of the 350 churches surveyed and interviewed without a doubt these were the healthiest of all the three types they had a forward focus and were willing to try almost anything to reach their tiny population for christ jesus those churches were led by leaders who were strong voices for righteousness in their rural communities they were not only participants with community leaders but they were partners in projects for the good of the area these bold churches also stretched the usual outreach area around their church from six miles to thirty miles the bold churches were most interested in connecting with the community they sought ways to think outside of the box for the betterment of community not just the church they emphasized newness over deadness i am extremely encouraged at what i have seen and the pastors who are giving it their all for the sake of christ in these rural areas as a rural church revitalizer you cannot settle for just doing a little you must give it your all if you are going to revitalize a rural church successful rural revitalizers stay out front and on the edge dying rural churches are more focused on relaxing in a recliner there have been many who i met that could barely make ends meet and yet their daily walk and christian experienced makes ours pale in compare there was such joy and intimacy in these congregations the pace was much slower and so much more relaxed these rural churches affirmed the membership and accepted everyone pastors of these rural churches were known in these small communities they were making a difference this will be the most challenging ministry assignment you will ever face might i make one more parting observation while so many in denominational life are focusing on a small number of urban centers for their future hopes perhaps such short sightedness will be the cause for us to lose the rest of america what a sad day that will be our lord jesus loves the little communities just as much as he does the big ones hold on and keep on hold on rural church revitalizer hold on marks journal revitalizechurch planting is a great thing and there s no need to take anything away from it but there should also be a default setting in a christian s heart that always longs to see dying churches revitalized it s not like the debate in your head about whether to fork over 2000 to the mechanic to fix your clunker of a car or to just buy a new one it s more like a decision about whether to walk away from a dear but difficult relationship our hearts should never want to do that even if once in a great while we must start with andy davis remarkable story of reforming one church and you ll find something that feels strangely like it s from the bible as if andy were only doing what the apostles did then let the biblical burden of bobby jamieson s article sit on you i m serious you just might find some new light bulbs turning on matt schmucker s and mike mckinley s articles then round out the apologetic by offering crisp statements for why churches and pastors should pursue the work of revitalizing if you are a pastor keep reading into the next section where jeramie rinne greg gilbert john folmar j d greear and brian croft offer valuable and practical wisdom on how to proceed with the work of reform could it be that church revitalization does not loom as large in the modern evangelical mindset as it did in jesus and the apostles before you answer that question if nothing else read bobby s article you just might wonder if we ve missed something basic
