Economic Cold War 1977

détente or destruction 1955-57 continues publication of routledge's multi-volume critical edition of bertrand russell's shorter writings between september 1955 and november 1957 russell published some sixty-one articles, reviews, statements, contributions to books and letters to editors, over fifty of which are contained in this volume. The texts, several of them hitherto unpublished, reveal the deepening of russell's commitment to the anti-nuclear struggle upon which he embarked in the previous volume of collected papers, Man's Peril 1954-55, continuing with the theme of nuclear peril. This volume contains discussion of nuclear weapons, world peace prospects for disarmament and british-soviet friendship against the backdrop of the cold war. One of the key papers in this volume is russell's message to the inaugural conference of the Pugwash movement, which russell was instrumental in launching and which became an influential independent forum of east-west scientific cooperation and counsel on issues as an internationally agreed nuclear test ban. In addition to the issues of war and peace, russell now in his eighties continued to take an interest in a wide variety of themes. russell not only addresses older controversies over nationalism and empire, religious belief and american civil liberties, he also confronts head-on the new and pressing matters of armed intervention in hungary and suez and of the manufacture and testing of the british hydrogen bomb. This volume includes seven interviews ranging from east-west relations after the geneva conference to a meeting with russell.

Women's Legal Landmarks commemorates the centenary of women's admission in 1919 to the legal profession in the UK and Ireland by identifying key legal landmarks in women's legal history over 80 authors write about landmarks that represent a significant achievement or turning point in women's engagement with law and law reform. The landmarks cover a wide range of topics including matrimonial property, the right to vote, prostitution, surrogacy and assisted reproduction, rape, domestic violence, FGM, equal pay, abortion, image-based sexual abuse and the ordination of women bishops, as well as the life stories of women who were the first to undertake key legal roles and positions. Together, the landmarks offer a scholarly intervention in the recovery of women's lost history and in the development of methodology of feminist legal history, as well as a demonstration of women's agency and activism in the achievement of law reform and justice.

Benjamin Disraeli Letters 2007-01-01

Based on extensive interviews and archival material, The First Wave tells the story of the opposition in Singapore in its critical first thirty years. In parliament, democratisation has been described to occur in waves. The first wave of a democratic awakening in post-independence Singapore began with J. B. Jeyaretnam's victory in the Anson by-election of 1981 that built up to the 1984 general election. The first of many to be called a watershed, in which Chiam See Tong was also elected in Potong Pasir after their successes in 1991, the opposition began dreaming of forming the government, but their euphoria was short-lived. Serious fault lines in the leading Singapore Democratic Party (SDP) rose to the surface almost immediately after the opposition victories of 1991 and the party was wiped out of parliament by 1997. The opposition spent the next decade experimenting with coalition arrangements to work their way back to victory.

this book informs the public for the first time about the impact of american psychiatry on soldiers during world war ii breaking point is the first in depth history of american psychiatry in world war ii drawn from unpublished primary documents oral histories and the author s personal interviews and correspondence over years with key psychiatric and military policymakers it begins with franklin roosevelt s endorsement of a universal selective service psychiatric examination followed by army and navy pre and post induction examinations ultimately 2 5 million men and women were rejected or discharged from military service on neuropsychiatric grounds never before or since has the united states engaged in such a program in designing selective service medical circular no 1 psychiatrist harry stack sullivan assumed psychiatrists could predict who might break down or falter in military service or even in civilian life thereafter while many american and european psychiatrists questioned this belief and huge numbers of american psychiatric casualties soon raised questions about screening s validity psychiatric and military leaders persisted in 1942 and 1943 in endorsing ever tougher screening and little else soon families complained of fathers and teens being drafted instead of being identified as psychiatric 4fs and blacks and native americans among others complained of bias a frustrated general george s patton famously slapped two malingering neuropsychiatric patients in sicily a sentiment shared by marshall and eisenhower though they favored a tamer style yet psychiatric rejections evacuations and discharges mounted while psychiatrist roy grinker and a few others treated soldiers close to the front in tunisia in early 1943 this was the exception but as demand for manpower soared and psychiatrists finally went to the field and saw that combat itself not predisposition precipitated breakdown leading military psychiatrists switched their emphasis from screening to prevention and treatment but this switch was too little too late and slowed by a year long series of inspector general investigations even while numbers of psychiatric casualties soared ironically despite and even partly because of psychiatrists wartime performance plus the emotional toll of war postwar america soon witnessed a dramatic growth in numbers popularity and influence of the profession culminating in the national mental health act 1946 but veterans with ptsd not recognized until 1980 were largely neglected
