Religion, Space, and the Environment 2017-07-05 religions often nurture important skills that help believers locate themselves in the world religious perceptions practices emotions and beliefs are closely interwoven with the environments from which they emerge sigurd bergmann s driving emphasis here is to explore religion not in relation to but as a part of the spatiality and movement within the environment from which it arises and is nurtured religion space and the environment emerges from the author s experiences in different places and continents over the past decade at the book s heart lie the questions of how space place and religion amalgamate and how lived space and lived religion influence each other bergmann explores how religion and the memory of our past impact our lives in urban spaces how the sacred geographies in mayan and northeast asian lands compare to modern eco spirituality and how human images and practices of moving in with and through the land are interwoven with the processes of colonization and sacralising and the practices of power and visions of the sacred among other topics

Unique Religion Space Universe 2017-02-24 author ioan ursu creates this book in his wish to create a new philosophical religious organization through this new organization the author wants to unify all the religious he wants all these teachings to be free of the influence of the alien entity so called angels that divides us through religions and controls our social actions creating numerous acts of conflict and war ursu wrote this book to express his personal opinions and answer to questions that appear in his life and many are the same questions that bother you he believes opinion is the philosophic answer that will intrigue you and make you love or hate them in the function of whatever philosophical religious beliefs you have he wants you to join him as he unifies all religious teaching and frees them from the influence of alien entities angels who with their teachings divides us through religion and controls our social actions creating numerous acts of war

Religion and Space 2016 this collection examines the overlap between religious and scientific approaches to understanding and exploring outer space a topic that merits continued academic study it is the hope of the editors that these works will bring new insights and suggest new directions for investigation in this burgeoning field too often religion and science are seen as diametrically opposed areas of human endeavor when in reality many scientists are influenced by religious ideas and many religious communities are inspired by scientific ideas religious activity has long been an aspect of humanity and will likely continue to accompany humans even if or when we begin to settle outer space we anticipate that this collection will be of use to future researchers studying the intersection of religious and scientific concepts of outer space we would like to give our thanks to the authors whose works are included here and to note that circumstances during the very challenging year of 2020 have made it difficult for everyone who expressed interest in participating in this project we also would like to thank our son luke swanson who was so very patient while his parents attention was focused on the heavens

Religion in a Space Age 1960 a revealing look at the parallel mythologies behind the colonization of earth and space and a bold vision for a more equitable responsible future both on and beyond our planet as environmental political and public health crises multiply on earth we are also at the dawn of a new space race in which governments team up with celebrity billionaires to exploit the cosmos for human gain the best known of these pioneers are selling different visions of the future while elon musk and spacex seek to establish a human presence on mars jeff bezos and blue origin work toward moving millions of earthlings into rotating near earth habitats despite these distinctions these two billionaires share a core utopian project the salvation of humanity through the exploitation of space in astrotopia philosopher of science and religion mary jane rubenstein pulls back the curtain on the not so new myths these space barons are peddling like growth without limit energy without guilt and salvation in a brand new world as rubenstein reveals we have already seen the destructive effects of this frontier zealotry in the centuries long history of european colonialism much like the imperial project on earth this renewed effort to conquer space is presented as a religious calling in the face of a coming apocalypse some very wealthy messiahs are offering an other worldly escape to a chosen few but rubenstein does more than expose the values of capitalist technoscience as the product of bad mythologies she offers a vision of exploring space without reproducing the atrocities of earthly colonialism encouraging us to find and even make stories that put cosmic caretaking over profiteering

The Mutual Influence of Religion and Science in the Human Understanding and Exploration of Outer Space 2021-08-26 space and time are basic features of the world view even the theology of many religions ancient and modern how did the world begin and how will it end what is the importance of religious architecture in symbolizing sacred space where and how do we locate the self the divine world wyatt s textbook treats ancient near eastern religions from a perspective that allows us to access how religion shapes and orders the world of human thought and experience the book is designed especially for classroom use each chapter provided with suggested reading copious quotations from ancient texts and summaries the subject matter is treated by topic not according to individual religions so that the reader understands the essential points of similarity and difference between religious systems and how they model their universe

Astrotopia 2024-02-19 was the space program the signature project of secular modernity or a symbol of humankind s perpetual quest for communion with god in the beginning god created the heavens and the earth in 1968 the world watched as earth rose over the moonscape televised from the orbiting apollo 8 mission capsule radioing back to houston on christmas eve astronauts recited the first ten verses from the book of genesis in fact many of the astronauts found space flight to be a religious experience to touch the face of god is the first book length historical study of the relationship between religion and the u s space program kendrick oliver explores the role played by religious motivations in the formation of the space program and discusses the responses of religious thinkers such as paul tillich and c s lewis examining the attitudes of religious americans oliver finds that the space program was a source of anxiety as well as inspiration it was not always easy for them to tell whether it was a godly or godless venture grounded in original archival research and the study of participant testimonies this book also explores one of the largest petition campaigns of the post war era between 1969 and 1975 more than eight million americans wrote to nasa expressing support for prayer and bible reading in space oliver s study is rigorous and detailed but also contemplative in its approach examining the larger meanings of mankind s first adventures in the heavens

Exploring Inner Space 1987 a collection of essays and short stories about space travel and religion touching the face of the cosmos explores the desire essentially spiritual to understand more about our place in the universe how our lives on earth are inextricably part of that bigger picture drawing on scientists religious thinkers and science fiction writers paul levinson and michael waltemathe have assembled a volume that combines space travel and religion for anyone interested in outer space theology and philosophy

Space and Time in the Religious Life of the Near East 2001-12-01 this volume examines the way in which cultural ideas about the heavens shape religious ideas and are shaped by them in return our approaches to cosmology have a profound effect on the way in which we each deal with religious questions and participate in the imaginative work of public and private world building employing an interdisciplinary team of international scholars each chapter shows how religion and cosmology interrelate and matter for real people historical and contemporary case studies are included to demonstrate the lived reality of a variety of faith traditions and their interactions with the cosmos this breadth of scope allows readers to get a unique overview of how religion science and our view of space have and will continue to impact our worldviews offering a comprehensive exploration of humanity and its relationship with cosmology this book will be an important reference for scholars of religion and science religion and culture interreligious dialogue and theology as well as those interested in science and culture and public education

To Touch the Face of God 2013-01-15 people form attachments to their home their neighbourhood and environment to the region and nation to which they belong they express feelings about space and place especially so in globalized times in religious studies in theology and in education there is a growing interest in spatial theories either as constructed within national borders or within international and transnational spaces the spatial turn has become an acknowledged term in interdisciplinary discourses although every practice of religious education is situated and contextually dependent religious education re research until now has not systematically paid attention to this fundamental insight this volume is devoted specifically to clarifying the close relationship between re practice and spatial and situational conditions after clarifying the main concepts in part 1 part 2 includes chapters related to classroom studies while part 3 focuses on studies about teachers of religious education part 4 contains studies beyond the classroom such as school chapels churches and inner space all contributions to this volume were developed in the context of the european network for religious education through contextual approaches enreca which has focused recently on the central issue of space and place

Touching the Face of the Cosmos 2016 religion and religious nationalism have long played a central role in many ethnic and national conflicts and the importance of religion to national identity means that territorial disputes can often focus on the contestation of holy places and sacred territory looking at the case of israel and palestine this book highlights the nexus between religion and politics through the process of classifying holy places giving them meaning and interpreting their standing in religious and civil law within governmental policy and within international and local communities written by a team of renowned scholars from within and outside the region this book follows on from holy places in the israeli palestinian conflict confrontation and co existence to provide an insightful look into the politics of religion and space examining jerusalem s holy basin from a variety of perspectives and disciplines it provides unique insights into the way jewish christian and muslim authorities scholars and jurists regard sacred space and the processes grass roots and official by which spaces become holy in the eyes of particular communities filling an important gap in the literature on middle east peacemaking the book will be of interest to scholars and students of the middle east conflict conflict resolution political science urban studies and history of religion

Intersections of Religion and Astronomy 2020-11-01 have you ever been overwhelmed with the question are we alone have you ever wondered if it were possible to travel backward and forward through time more importantly have you struggled with the moral and theological implications of the reality of these issues if so this book is written with you in mind i became interested in the subjects of extra terrestrial research and time travel in december 2004 i cannot recall exactly what it was that manifested that interest perhaps it was something i saw on television heard on radio or read in a magazine book or some other publication i wanted to study them in depth and learn as much as possible about their past present and future i directed my studies in the areas of science physics and theology as opposed to immersing myself in science fiction stories despite the fact that i enjoy good entertainment i have never been fortunate enough to communicate with extra terrestrial intelligence or travel in time however to experience either or both would be a dream
