The Codes of the Constitution 2016-09-22 this book describes an astounding feat of constitutional writing and publication for a number of decades officials working across different branches of the united kingdom uk constitution have been engaged in a series of separate projects taken in their totality they amount to a vast enterprise yet until now no one has fully recognised or critically analysed what has taken place there has been a proliferation in the uk of publicly available codes normally lacking a basis in statute providing official accounts of a variety of different features of uk constitutional rules and principles they cover institutions ranging from the cabinet to the civil service to the judiciary and relationships between entities such as central government and the devolved executives and between the uk executive and the westminster parliament among them are prominent texts such as the ministerial code the cabinet manual the guide to judicial conduct and the devolution memorandum of understanding as well as more obscure documents that nonetheless contain important stipulations regarding the operation of the system similar developments have taken place in countries including australia canada and new zealand the author explores the history of this phenomenon in the uk how it functions today here and elsewhere in the commonwealth and its implications for the uk constitution

Service 1972 in this report the political and constitutional reform committee gives its assessment of the process of government formation following the may 2010 general election in general the committee finds that the process went well but it also suggests some practical improvements and clarifications among the key findings is that clearer guidance is still needed on the circumstances under which a prime minister should resign and when he has a duty to remain in office the report also proposes enhanced processes for ensuring that governments understand and are discouraged from breaching restrictions on their activity that apply before and immediately after general elections the committee concludes that as a coalition government s programme for government cannot be put directly to the people the house of commons needs to have the opportunity to subject these proposals to full pre legislative scrutiny
