Chinese B SL May 2022 Mock Paper-Reading, Listening, Writing 2015 the euro area sovereign debt crisis has been the greatest threat to the euro since its inception but the consequences of the crisis go well beyond the realm of macroeconomics the crisis has cast doubt on the viability of a mechanism of integration such as the one envisaged in economic and monetary union emu and on the future of the european union as a political project in the face of citizens growing disaffection the various responses to the crisis have not only altered the principles underlying emu they have also had a profound impact on the constitutional orders of the eu and its member states this book focuses on the euro area crisis and its aftermath from a constitutional perspective it provides a critical analysis of the workings and evolution of economic and monetary union the changes brought by the crisis and their broader effects and the constitutional obstacles to integration in this area looking forward it tackles the uncertain future of economic and fiscal integration and the challenges posed this is a compelling and incisive account of some of the most significant developments and dilemmas facing the european union since its creation

The Euro Area Crisis in Constitutional Perspective 2015-10-24 cepol aims is to bring together senior police officers from across europe to share research and best practice to encourage cross border cooperation in the fight against crime and to help facilitate training and exchange programmes between european police forces however in march 2013 the commission presented a proposal for a new europol regulation one effect of which would have been to merge cepol with europol the committee the government the directors of europol and cepol the european parliament and the council all opposed the proposed merger a separate regulation on cepol was therefore proposed the new draft regulation would allow cepol broader objectives and modernised governance the government supports the work of cepol but is unhappy with a number of proposals in the regulation including the removal of the requirement that all attendees on cepol courses should be senior police officers and the suggestion that member states should designate a national unit to contribute to cepol s work programmes the committee points out that there are legal reasons why the uk must at some stage opt in to the regulation it recommends that the government to do so now to give the uk a place at the negotiating table when the draft regulation is discussed

Mathematics for the IB Diploma: Applications and Interpretation HL 2014-10-24 human trafficking is consistently featured on the global political agenda this book examines the trafficking of adult female victims for sexual exploitation and specifically the understanding of consent and its influence in the identification and treatment of trafficking victims jessica elliot argues that when applied to situations of human trafficking migration and sexual exploitation the notion of consent presents problems which current international laws are unable to address establishing the presence of coercion and a lack of consent can be highly problematic particularly in situations of human trafficking and exploitative prostitution activities which may be deemed inherently coercive and problematically clandestine by examining legal definitions of human trafficking in international instruments and their domestic implementation in different countries the book explores victimhood in the context of exploitative migration and argues that no clear line can be drawn between those who have been smuggled trafficked or consensually trafficked into a situation of exploitation the book will be great use and interest to students and researchers of migration law transnational criminal law and gender studies

The Role of Consent in Human Trafficking 2019-09-26 this book investigates everyday practices of intelligence cooperation in anti terrorism matters with a specific focus on the relationship between europe and britain the volume examines the effective involvement of british anti terrorism efforts in european cooperation arrangements which until now have been overshadowed by the uk us special relationship and by political debates that overstate the divide between britain and continental europe in arguing that british intelligence has always had a european dimension it provides a distinct perspective to the study of intelligence cooperation and the role of british intelligence therein mobilizing a field theory approach the book provides an original contribution to the understanding of intelligence cooperation by investigating everyday bureaucratic practices of ground level security professionals and police forces embedded in a european field structured around the exchange of anti terror intelligence it also accounts for the drivers behind cooperation by using field analysis which explains the trajectory and positioning of actors according to their capitals rather than necessities dictated by threats or state decisions this book will be of much interest to students of security studies international political sociology intelligence studies and international relations in general

IB Chinese B (HL) Vocabulary 2022 Edition 2014 this book is about what mark carney has called the social licence for financial markets and how it can point us towards a more sustainable future author david rouch argues that what it reveals contrasts sharply with the usual portrayals of markets as places of unrestrained financial self interest drawing attention to a more complex reality and the presence of justice focused aspirations in finance can positively impact individual institutional and systemic behaviour change not imposed by regulators but emerging from the very substance of market relationships the finance sector should have a key role in addressing humanity s increasingly pressing sustainability challenges yet the relationship between finance and society has not recovered from the 2008 crisis and the scandals and austerity that followed the covid 19 pandemic and its economic fallout is sharpening some of the issues and creating new ones recognising that financial markets operate subject to a social licence has the potential to galvanise market participants in tackling these challenges strengthening social solidarity on which markets also depend and to provide coordinates for navigating a way through the post pandemic social political and economic landscape

The Social Licence for Financial Markets 2014 this book discusses the manner in which britain s wars which took place between 2000 and 2015 have interacted with the relevant principles of international law and english law for the purpose primarily of considering legal accountability during a debate in the house of lords in 2005 a former chief of the defence staff commented that the armed forces are under legal siege the book will discuss the major legal issues which have arisen ranging from the various votes in parliament to go to war the constitutional relationship between ministers and senior commanders the right under international law to use force the influence of human rights law the role of the courts in england including the coroners courts to the legal regime applying to the conduct of uk military operations it will assess critically whether the armed forces will now have to accept that operations conducted outside the uk are subject to greater legal scrutiny than previously and whether if this is the case it is likely to hinder their future military activities this book will be of great interest to scholars of international law the law of armed conflict military studies and international relations as well as to those with a professional or other interest in the subject matter

Legal Accountability and Britain's Wars 2000-2015 2014-06-30 recommends amendments to the health and social care bill to ensure that private or voluntary sector care homes which accommodate publicly funded residents are brought within the scope of the human rights act house of commons papers 303 2007 08

HL 86, HC 859 - Legislative Scrutiny: Counter-Terrorism and Security Bill 2017-10-02 the eaw provides for the surrender from one eu member state to another of those accused or convicted of crimes it replaced existing extradition proceedings between member states and was designed to speed up and simplify the transfer of suspected criminals and fugitives under the provisions of the lisbon treaty the uk had the option to opt out of all of the pre lisbon treaty eu justice and home affairs legislation in october 2012 the government confirmed that it would make use of this provision to opt out of approximately 130 measures and that it would seek to opt back into 35 including the eaw on 1 december 2014 the uk s opt out will come into effect though negotiations are underway to extend that deadline on a transitional basis to 7 december if the uk has not opted back in by this date it will no longer be part of the eaw scheme the issue of the uk s opt in and the eaw in particular has become an increasingly political topic and entwined with arguments about the eu more generally the evidence session covered a number of issues relating to the eaw it juxtaposed the two political arguments on this controversial issue by hearing from baroness ludford in favour of opting in and working to improve the legislation and jacob rees mogg mp who opposes the opt in calling for an alternative system that is not coming under the competence of the european union and it remains a matter of uk law

HL 71, HC 837 - Protocol 15 to the European Convention on Human Rights 2015-02-02 the government proposes to implement its residence test policy by means of an affirmative statutory instrument which it laid in draft on monday 31 march this report looks at that statutory instrument particularly in relation to its likely effect on children it sets out in some detail the potential impact of the residence test on four particular categories of children unaccompanied children undocumented children children with special educational needs or disabilities and section 17 and 20 children act 1989 cases the committee regrets that the government s proposal was not introduced by primary legislation to allow both houses to scrutinise and amend its provisions and it urges the government to withdraw the instrument as currently drafted if the government does decide to proceed by affirmative instrument the committee expects the newly laid instrument to reflect its concerns the committee states that the government s justification for its residence test proposal to ensure that only individuals with a strong connection to the united kingdom can claim civil legal aid at the uk taxpayers expense cannot be applied fairly to children it concludes that if the residence test applies to children it cannot see any way to ensure that the views of children are heard in any judicial or administrative proceedings affecting the child as required by article 12 unrcr or to ensure that the child s best interests are a primary consideration

HL 63 - The European Arrest Warrant Opt-In 2019-05-04 few events over the past few decades have given rise to an amount of debate and speculation concerning the state of the european union eu and the future of european integration as the economic and financial crisis that began in 2007 in spite of substantial media policy making and academic attention the fundamental questions of why and how the euro area ea has remained not only intact but also expanded and integrated further during the crisis require deeper theoretical investigation one needs to understand not only the economics but also the politics and institutions of the crisis a lack of such an understanding is the reason why a number of observers at least initially had a hard time making sense of policy makers decisions and pace thereof including why the ea did not implode as some predicted economic theories provide a certain perspective for why the crisis occurred and what economic policies were and are needed to resolve it however they fail to capture the deeper roots and management of the crisis in order to improve our understanding of a discussion that has oscillated between fears of ea disintegration on the one hand and the concrete advancement of integration during the crisis on the other this special collection brings together leading scholars of european integration who apply key theoretical approaches from liberal intergovernmentalism and neofunctionalism to other prominent theoretical accounts that have been applied to european integration such as historical institutionalism critical political economy normative theory and a public opinion approach to the economic and financial crisis the contributions seek to analyse understand and or explain the events that occurred and the re actions to them in order to draw conclusions concerning the applicability and usefulness of their respective theoretical perspectives this book was published as a special issue of the journal of european public policy

HL 14, HC 234 - Legal Aid: Children and the Residence Test 2015 the committee criticises the belated recognition of the importance of the growth agenda it welcomes proposals for an investment plan for europe and for a capital markets union yet the responsibility for promoting growth and prosperity lies not only with the commission but with every member state the uk has the largest financial sector in the eu and the implications of these reforms for this country are therefore immense yet the committee finds that the uk s influence over the eu financial services agenda is diminishing it calls on the government and all uk authorities to take urgent steps to correct this the prosperity of the city of london and the financial services industry it hosts is in the interests not only of the uk but of the eu as a whole

European Integration in Times of Crisis 2014-03-11 gaokao essays are an important component of the national college entrance examination gaokao for chinese high school students they serve as a comprehensive assessment of students language proficiency thinking abilities and overall literacy gaokao essays and the ib chinese exam can learn from and reference each other in certain aspects but they also have some differences despite the differences both gaokao essays and the ib chinese exam emphasize the development of candidates writing and thinking abilities by preparing for and referencing gaokao essays candidates can cultivate good writing habits logical thinking and expression skills which are also helpful for tackling writing tasks in the ib chinese exam furthermore candidates can enhance their writing abilities and test taking skills by familiarizing themselves with the writing requirements and evaluation criteria of the ib chinese exam it is important to note that during the preparation process candidates should engage in targeted practice and preparation based on the requirements of the ib chinese exam understanding the specific format and evaluation criteria of the exam and making corresponding learning and improvements are essential

HL 103 - The Post-crisis Eu Financial Regulatory Framework: Do The Pieces Fit? 2014 this book provides a state of the art discussion of the royal prerogative over war powers in the uk this issue has received particular attention over proposed military strikes against the syrian regime and it was claimed by many observers and scholars that parliament now controls decisions in war however the record has been mixed and the most recent decision by prime minister may on syria in 2018 shows that the executive can re assert prerogative powers and effectively sidestep parliament the author argues that these dynamics should be seen in the context of the declining authority of the executive and the legislature and in terms of a policy solution and ultimately she suggests a war powers act as a firmer foundation for britain s war powers

Unveiling the Secrets of Gaokao Essays to Stand Out in IB Chinese Exams

2015 the government proposes introducing legislative tests to determine if a limited liability partnership member is an employee or truly a partner failing these tests would make the member liable for income tax and national insurance contributions nic as an employee and the llp would pay employer nics nearly all the evidence received by the committee was that the legislative tests failed to achieve the policy objective many suggested that existing case law could be used instead a delay in implementation until april 2015 would allow for further consultation to target the legislation better and for businesses to adapt to the changes the committee also raised concerns that the proposed changes to tax arrangements for llps would apply only to uk registered llps and not those conducting business here but formed outside the uk the committee is content in principle with proposed measures to counter shifting of profit to corporate members of partnerships to minimise tax liability and highlights the extent of this practice in the alternative investment fund management aifm sector but the committee wants to see the legislation drafted more precisely and it is concerned that the government s revised estimates of the tax yield from these measures and particularly the additional 1 92bn in 2015 2019 from the aifm sector show that the government s original estimates of tax yield were very wide of the mark

Britain's War Powers 2017-02-23 the rule of law is a fundamental tenet of the united kingdom constitution in the context of the government it means more than simple compliance with the letter of the law it means governing in accordance with constitutional principles the lord chancellor has traditionally had a key role to play both by defending the independence of the judiciary and by ensuring that the rule of law is respected within government the constitutional reform act 2005 substantially changed the office of lord chancellor the lord chancellor is no longer the head of the judiciary or speaker of the house of lords and since 2007 the office has been combined with that of the secretary of state for justice yet the duty of the lord chancellor in relation to the rule of law remains unchanged it has become more difficult for post reform lord chancellors with their wider policy responsibilities more overtly political positions as secretaries of state for justice and their reduced role in relation to the judiciary to carry out this duty in relation to the rule of law whilst responsibility for constitutional change passed to the deputy prime minister in 2010 the committee have heard no evidence that he or any other minister currently takes responsibility for the state of the constitution as a whole the committee concludes that despite significant changes to the office of lord chancellor it still retains important constitutional duties and responsibilities that go beyond those of other ministers and recommends that the office and its associated responsibilities be retained and strengthened with an amended oath

IB Mandarin Chinese B (Ab Initio) Grammar 2022 Edition 2018-06-14 the government's progressive work on tackling violence against women and girls abroad is not translating into its domestic policy despite its violence against women and girls action strategy and the home secretary's personal commitment to the issue the committee warns that failure to provide adequate refuge spaces and specialist services for victims of violence against women and girls demonstrates the difficulty for the government in fulfilling its international obligations under the convention when decisions over commissioning of certain services has been devolved the committee also expresses alarm at the prevalence of violence against women and girls across many cultures in the uk today and heard troubling evidence from many minority groups that represent women with particular needs the portrayal of women as victims of violence is deeply embedded in cultural stereotypes in the depiction of women in the media and in how women are treated in the asylum system this has to stop the committee's recommendations include that schools should play a greater role and include issues of violence against women and girls within the pshe curriculum whilst the government has taken steps to engage with the media and with public awareness campaigns to counteract the sexualised portrayal of women noting that the bbc declined invitations to give evidence to this inquiry the media themselves should do more the government look again at the payment of universal credit to couples because of its concerns that it could put women subject to domestic violence at risk

Edeo & Legoo Mandarin Publications List 2021 September Issue 2014-06-11 tax law changes at a startling rate not only does societal change bring with it demands for change in the tax system but changes in the political climate will force change as will many other competing pressures with this pace of change it is easy to focus on the practical and forget the core underpinnings of the tax system and their philosophical justifications taking a pause to remind ourselves of those principles and how they can operate in the modern tax system is crucial to ensuring that the tax system does not diverge too far from what it should be or could be it is essential to understand the answers to some of the seemingly basic questions that surround tax before we can even begin to think about what a tax system should look like this collection brings together major themes and difficult questions in the philosophical foundations of tax law the chapters consider practical issues such as justification enforcement design and mechanics and provide a full and coherent analysis of the basis for tax law philosophical foundations of tax law allows the reader to consider how tax systems should move forward in the modern world with a sound philosophical basis to provide the practical tax system that the state requires and citizens deserve

Philosophical Foundations of Tax Law this book addresses the various ways in which modern approaches to the protection of national security have impacted upon the constitutional order of the united kingdom it outlines and assesses the constitutional significance of the three primary elements of the united kingdom's response to the possibility of terrorism and other phenomena that threaten the security of the state the body of counter terrorism legislation that has grown up in the last decade and a half the evolving law of investigatory powers and to the extent relevant to the domestic constitution the law and practice governing international military action and co operation following on from this the author demonstrates that considerations of national security as a good to be protected and promoted in contemporary britain are reflected not merely in the existence of discrete bodies of law by which it is protected at home and abroad but simultaneously and increasingly leaked into other areas of public law elements of the constitution which are not directly and inherently linked to national security nevertheless become by both accident and design implicated in the state's national security endeavours with significant and at times far reaching consequences for the constitutional order generally a renewed and strengthened concern for national security since september 2001 has it is argued dragged into its orbit a variety of constitutional phenomena and altered them in its image giving rise to what we might call a national security constitution

The Moral Economy of Welfare and Migration with the rate of young jobless in the eu still at nearly double its pre crisis level and the uk experiencing exceptionally high levels of unemployment this report calls on the government to rethink the way it uses european funding the government needs to use eu money to support the introduction of a youth guarantee rather than putting the funds towards existing domestic measures such as the youth contract the youth contract had underperformed and was not popular in the private sector while the youth guarantee had been successful in other european countries five regions in the uk were highlighted in the report as having unemployment levels so high that they qualified for additional eu funding these areas were tees valley durham west midlands south western scotland inner london and merseyside the committee is urging the government use the european funding to run pilot youth guarantee schemes in these five areas other recommendations made in the report include a move away from a centralised management of eu funds and make the most of local authorities and local enterprise partnerships who have links to specialist organisations in their areas when it comes to careers advice the government should use eu money to fund more traditional face to face careers advice rather than focusing on online support and more needs to be done to address the skills mismatch in the eu a particular example being in ict

Edeo & Legoo Mandarin Publications Lists 2021 June Issue argues that the solution to the excess of laws regulation and regulators is to change the mindset of lawmakers

The National Security Constitution the joint committee on human rights welcomes the provision in the criminal courts and justice bill carried over from the last session of this parliament which extends the current offence of possession of extreme pornography to include possession of pornographic images depicting rape and other non consensual sexual penetration the committee considers this provision to be human rights enhancing given the evidence of cultural harm done by such pornography and acknowledges the strong justification provided for this proportionate restriction on individual rights however some of the provisions of the bill cause concern the committee is disappointed that the government has not examined the provisions of the bill against all the relevant international standards relating to the rights of children it urges the government to provide further information in relation to sen provision in secure colleges and recommends that the bill be amended to make explicit that secure college rules can only authorise the use of reasonable force on children as a last resort the committee also reports on the deregulation bill it expresses its concern that application of the economic growth duty in that bill to the equality and human rights commission ehrc risks the possibility of that body s unaccredited a status being downgraded and could put the uk in breach of its obligations under eu equality law it recommends that this duty not be applied to the ehrc unless that body is satisfied that it can be done in a way that will not restrict its independence

Red Tape while strong armed forces remain the bedrock in safeguarding national interests new kinds of power projection are now required both to make the use of force hard power more effective and in some instances to replace it with the deployment of what has been labelled soft power soft power involves getting what a country wants by influencing other countries to want the same thing through attraction persuasion and co option the information and digital revolution has transformed international relations and foreign policy meaning that the uk must win over new and wider audiences to its point of view the uk must change the way it interacts with other nations and communities and is well equipped to do so soft power methods of exercising international influence must now be combined with older approaches in order to secure and promote the uk s interests and purposes to ensure that the exercise of soft power takes its place at the core of government policy making the committee calls for the creation of a new strategic unit at the heart of government its purpose would be to assist the prime minister in ensuring all departments understand the importance of soft power and of upholding the uk s reputation and in swiftly counteracting any potentially damaging policies or messages while investing in soft power takes time to produce results the committee makes a number of recommendations including that bbc world service s budget is not reduced any further in real terms and that the british council is properly resourced to encourage the uk s creative industries
