curriculum mechanical engineering undergraduate major

Oct 22 2022

when students begin studying the mechanical engineering major in the second year they are first given instruction in subjects that are fundamental to mechanical engineering namely engineering mechanics mechanics of materials thermodynamics fundamentals of fluid dynamics dynamics of machinery and machine elements and machine drawing department of mechanical engineering national institute of

Sep 20 2022

in the dynamics of machinery courses students learn the basics of the theories that make up mechanical engineering such as material mechanics fluid mechanics thermodynamics and mechanical dynamics and understand the basics of machine structure and operating principles
