focussing on three first and early second century documents the shepherd of hermas 1 clement and the ignatian epistles this work contributes to a growing body of literature concerned with the social setting of early christianity maier argues that the development of structures of leadership in the early christian church is best accounted for by reference to the hospitality patronage and leadership of wealthy hosts who invited local christian groups to meet in their homes sociological models and types are employed to analyze the tensions that arose from excesses of patronage and leadership by the well to do recognizing the socio economic setting of these conflicts corrects the interpretation of early christian conflicts over the ministry as purely theological and doctrinali

The Cultic Setting of Realized Eschatology in Early Christianity 2014-04-09

this book explores the way in which church architecture from the earliest centuries of christianity has been shaped by holy bones the physical remains or relics of those whom the church venerated as saints the church s holy dead continued to exercise an influence on the living from beyond the grave and their earthly remains provided a focus for prayer the memoriae house churches and crypts of early christian rome the elaborately decorated monuments containing the bodies of the bishops of merovingian gaul the revival of ring crypts in the carshingian empire the crypts tomb shrines and later high shrines of medieval england all demonstrate how the presence of a holy body within a church influenced its very architecture this is the first complete modern study of this hitherto somewhat neglected aspect of medieval church architecture in western europe the mid tertiary exposures include backtilted strands of the catalina detachment system somewhat younger listric or rotational normal faults and steeper basin range normal faults that display offsets both synthetic and antithetic to the flanks of the san petro trough in cienega gap flanking the tucson basin multiple tilt blocks of the pantano formation form part of the upper plate of the catalina detachment system initial construction of alluvial fans by generally westward paleoflow was followed by ponding of lacustrine environments along the foot of secondary breakaway scarps that also generated massive megabreccia deposits in summary syntectonic oligocene to miocene sedimentation succeeded a prominent pulse of polymodal mid tertiary volcanism and was coeval with mylonitic deformation and detachment faulting along the flank of the catalina core complex the headwall rupture for the detachment system migrated westward from an initial position along the range front of the galiuro mountains after mid miocene time accumulation and subsequent dissection of essentially undeformed basin fill was accompanied by basin range block faulting the most challenging structural issue is whether fault strands of the catalina detachment system are interconnected or are disconnected rotational segments
