Caring 1986 is it possible for a woman to be empowered and be happy inspired to greatness a feminine approach to healing the world explores the question from a research perspective utilizing the method of narrative analysis to examine women s one on one interviews what makes this book special is the focus on the narrative voice of the women participants which differentiates it from previous explorations and research our participants are among those western women who are a part of the vanguards who infiltrated the male dominated workforce and advanced toward significant professional empowerment the findings suggest that a fear based survival mode is keeping women who outwardly seem empowered from an inner feeling of empowerment and thus from happiness the participants spoke of being called to greater fulfillment in their lives and recognized that conscious active responsibility would be necessary to satisfy those needs though in many cases it remained unclear whether they would decide to act upon the realization or not it is of great importance that we pay attention to such women s interpretation of their experiences society needs to attend to the findings we will explore within this book these results are critical to psychological health and reflect deeply on how to help women find the courage to move forward because a healthy society relies on women rising owning their experience balancing their priorities and having access to steps for health it is clear that women s emotional mental physical and spiritual health would be improved through access to specific programs that will promote unconditional love integration and conscious awareness designed to access the individual s inner sage and as yet unrealized potentialities tracy cooper is a ph d in clinical psychology specializing in integrative therapy and personal empowerment at the university of california berkeley she was a psychotherapist within the psychological services department presently she is a psychotherapist offering comprehensive care to patients with chronic medical conditions and serious mental illness as a community activist she is involved with several nonprofit organizations she is the founder of the uloma foundation she serves as a board member for arts for all and manages a mental health program at interfaith community services tracy cooper is an academic and literary author she contributed to the book what women want a book for men and she is the author of the children s book series sophie starchild

Approaches to the Anglo and American Female Epic, 1621-1982 2006 no other cluster of medical issues affects the genders as differently as those related to procreation contraception sterilization abortion artificial insemination in vitro fertilization surrogate motherhood and genetic screening yet the moral diversity among feminists has led to political fragmentation foiling efforts to create policies that are likely to serve the interests of the largest possible number of women in this remarkable book rosemarie tong offers an approach to feminist bioethics that serves as a catalyst bringing together varied perspectives on choice control and connection emphasizing the complexity of feminist debates she guides feminists toward consensus in thought cooperation in action and a world that would have no room for domination and subordination tong fairly and comprehensively presents the traditions of both feminist and nonfeminist ethics and bioethics although feminist approaches to bioethics derive many insights from nonfeminist ethics and bioethics tong shows that their primary source of inspiration is feminist ethics leading feminist bioethicists to ask the so called woman question in order to raise women s consciousness about the systems structures and relationships that oppress them feminist bioethicists are naturally committed to acting locally in the worlds of medicine and science but their different feminist voices must also be raised at the policy table in order to make gender equity a present reality rather than a mere future possibility inability to define a plan that guarantees liberation for all women must not prevent feminists from offering a plan that promises to improve the welfare of many women otherwise a perspective less appealing to women may fill the gap
