Internationalisation of European ICT Activities 2021-03-03 the adoption of agriculture is one of the major developments in human history archaeological studies have demonstrated that the trajectories of neolithisation in northwest Europe were diverse this book presents a study into the archaeology of the communities involved in the process of neolithisation in the lower Rhine area 5500-2500 cal BC it elucidates the role played by the indigenous communities in relation to their environmental context and in view of the changes that becoming Neolithic brought about this work brings together a comprehensive array of excavated archaeological sites in the lower Rhine area their analysis shows that the succession of late Mesolithic Swifterbant culture Hazendonk group and Vlaardingense culture societies represents a continuous long term tradition of inhabitation of the wetlands and wetland margins of this area forming a culturally continuous record of communities in the transition to agriculture after demonstrating the diversity of the Mesolithic the subsequent developments regarding neolithisation are studied from an indigenous perspective foregrounding the relationship between local communities and the dynamic wetland landscape the study shows that the archaeological evidence of regional inhabitation points to long term flexible behaviour and pragmatic decisions being made concerning livelihood food economy and mobility this disposition also influenced how the novel elements of neolithisation were incorporated animal husbandry crop cultivation and sedentism were an addition to the existing broad spectrum economy but were incorporated within a set of integrative strategies for the interpretation of neolithisation this study offers a complementary approach to existing research instead of arguing for a short transition based on the economic importance of domesticates and cultigens at sites this study emphasises the persistent traditions of the communities involved new elements instead of bringing about radical changes are shown to be attuned to existing hunter gatherer practices by documenting indications of the mentalité of the inhabitants of the wetlands it is demonstrated that their mindset remained essentially mesolithic for millennia this book is accompanied by a separate 422 page volume containing the appendices these constitute a comprehensive inventory of 159 mostly excavated archaeological sites in the lower rhine area

Abnormal Psychology 1997 this copiously annotated bibliography documents and examines the whole range of commentary on strindberg s works and activity in many fields besides the plays for which he is internationally best known these include his prose fiction and poetry his work as an historian and natural historian and his relationship to the other arts most notably his painting it is concerned with both lasting works of literary and dramatic criticism as well as reviews of his books and plays in the theatre and some more ephemeral material all of this in several languages organised generically and by subject and individual work the bibliography enables the reader to trace the changing impact of strindberg and his works in various countries and during different periods it is thus very much a study in reception as well as a bibliographical record of published material it traces the developing image of strindberg and his writing both during his lifetime and in subsequent years and with frequent cross reference offers a comprehensive overview of a literary and existential project that has rarely been matched for its multifaceted diversity the bibliography is published in three parts volume 2 the plays 978 0 947623 82 1 and volume 3 prose poetry miscellaneous 978 0 947623 83 8 are also now available michael robinson is emeritus professor of drama and scandinavian studies at the university of east anglia norwich

Theory And Applications Of Ocean Surface Waves (Third Edition) (In 2 Volumes) 2001 in january 1872 bryant traveled to mexico city where he was greeted warmly by president benito juarez on this and other occasions he was feted for the evening post s sturdy condemnation in 1863 of the abortive invasion of mexico which was freshly remembered there at the close of his visit a local newspaper remarked that the honors and hospitality which were so lavishly and generously conferred upon him were the spontaneous outpouring of a grateful people who had not forgotten that when mexico was friendless mr bryant became her friend returning in april through new orleans and up the mississippi by steamboat to cincinnati he was greeted at a public reception by governor rutherford hayes who was pleased by his winning and lovable manners and pithy anecdotes that spring bryant built a library for his birthplace cummington stocking it with several thousand books procured for him by the publisher george palmer putnam in new york and london the following year after the last of his many travels this time a revisit to south carolina and florida he made a similar gift to roslin these benefactions won him honorary membership in the newly formed american library association and an invitation to open a library at princeton university which made him an honorary doctor of letters ultimately in the final year of his life his plans for the bryant library at cummington solicited from the white house by president hayes provided the basic design for the first presidential library in the country that established by hayes in fremont ohio an improbable by product of the presidential race in 1872 was a proposal by leading journalists that bryant become in his seventy eighth year a candidate to oppose president grant and his challenger for the republican nomination the mercurial editor of the new york tribune horace greeley bryant s immediate refusal to take the suggestion seriously was succinct and tinged with humor it was impossible he declared in his newspaper that he should receive the nomination and equally impossible if it were offered that he should commit the folly of accepting it four years later he was distressed at being unable to switch his journal s support of the republican candidate hayes to the democratic candidate his old companion in political reform samuel jones tilden as bryant approached and entered his eighties his writing and public speaking continued without slackening between 1872 and 1878 he published his collected orations and addresses edited a revision of his anthology of poetry and two volumes of landscape sketches picturesque america co authored a four volume popular history of the united states and undertook to co edit a three volume set of shakespeare s plays while also producing long monographs on several seventeenth century english poets he dedicated statues of shakespeare walter scott and fitz green halleck in central park and spoke elsewhere on robert burns benjamin franklin goethe and shakespeare gave speeches on mexico and national honesty and presided over the founding of the state charities aid association he was honored in albany at receptions by each house of the legislature for his eightieth birthday his life s work was celebrated in silver on a tiffany vase given him by admirers throughout the country bryant s last public act was to unveil in central park his brainchild of nearly a half century earlier a bust of the italian patriot giuseppe mazzini here after exhaustion under the june sun he fell and suffered a massive concussion followed by a stroke which led to his death a fortnight later in his eighty fourth year a period of virtual national mourning preceded his funeral and his burial beside his wife at roslin at one of many memorial services a eulogist exclaimed the broad outline of his character had become universally familiar like a mountain or a sea whoever saw bryant saw america the letters of william cullen bryant volume vi 1872 1878 is available from the publisher on an open access basis
