this sourcebook presents material which illustrates the life of the army in the field and in the community a source book for mediaeval history selected documents illustrating the history of europe in the middle age it will be observed that we have made use chiefly of documents quoting from chronicles only when it seemed absolutely necessary an exception to this general principle is found in section i where a larger use of chronicles was rendered necessary by the lack of documentary sources for much of the period covered but it is perhaps unnecessary to apologize for presenting selections from the important histories of tacitus gregory einhard and widukind in the matter of form translation omissions arrangements notes etc we were guided by considerations of the purpose of the book the style of most of the documents in the original is involved obscure bombastic and repetitious a faithful rendition into english would often be quite unintelligible we have endeavored to make a clear and readable translation but always to give the correct meaning if we have failed in the latter it is not for want of constant effort we have not hesitated to omit phrases and clauses often of a parenthetical nature the presence of which in the translation would only render the passage obscure and obstruct the thought as a rule we have given the full text of the body of the document but we have generally omitted the first and last paragraphs the former containing usually titles and pious generalities and the latter being composed of lists of witnesses etc we have given a sufficient number of the documents in full to illustrate these features of mediæval diplomatics all but the most trivial omissions in the text which are matters rather of form of translation are indicated thus insertions in the text to explain the meaning of phrases are inclosed in brackets quotations from the bible are regularly given in the words of the authorized version but where the latin taken from the vulgate differs in any essential manner we have sometimes translated the passage literally within each section the documents are arranged in chronological order except in a few cases where the topical arrangement seemed necessary we believe that the explanatory notes in the form of introductions and foot notes will be found of service they are by no means exhaustive but are intended to explain the setting and importance of the document and the difficult or obscure passages it may contain the reference to the work or the collection in which the original is found is given after the title of practically every document the meaning of the references will be plain from the accompanying bibliography the original of nearly all the documents is in latin some few are in greek old french or german and in such cases the language of the original is indicated it is impossible of course to give explicit directions as to the use of the book other than the very obvious methods of requiring the student to read and analyze the documents assigned in connection with the lesson in the text book and of making clear to him the relation of the document to the event it may be possible also for the teacher to give the student some notion of the meaning of historical method e g the necessity of making allowance for the ignorance or the bias of the author in chronicles or the way in which a knowledge of institutions is deduced from incidental references in documents suggestions of both sorts will be found in the introduction and notes the teacher should insist on the use of such helps as are found in the book notes cross references glossary etc groups of documents can be used to advantage in topical work assigned topics worked up from authorities can be illustrated by documents selected from the book e g imperial elections papal elections the normans in sicily history of the austrian dominions germans and slavs on the eastern frontier relations of the emperors and the popes before the investiture strife etc keith yandell s philosophy of religion a contemporary introduction was one of the first textbooks to explore the philosophy of religion with reference to religions other than christianity this new revised edition explores the logical validity and truth claims of several world religions christianity judaism islam hinduism buddhism and jainism with updated streamlined discussions on important topics in philosophy of religion such as religious pluralism freedom and responsibility evidentialist moral theism reformed epistemology doxastic practice epistemology the problem of evil ontological and cosmological arguments other new features include updated questions for reflection and new annotated bibliographies for each chapter as well as an rehabilitation to them at the tertiary prevention level part 3 focuses on children in emergencies in general and in specific situations and role of integrated child protection centres in these situations this is a necessary read for social workers lawyers researchers trainers and teachers working on child rights across the world and especially in developing countries proteins pep tides and amino acids sourcebook is the second in a series of reference books conceived to cover the explosive growth in commercially available biological reagents the success of our first reference work source book of enzymes published in 1997 encouraged us to continue this series choosing proteins peptides and amino acids as the subject matter for the second volume was simple given their preeminence in regulating biochemical processes and their importance to modern molecular biology the sourcebook series was inspired by our difficulty in locating a suitable replacement for a depleted reagent in the midst of an urgent research project to our dismay we found the reagent supplier out of business and the product line no longer available other reagent catalogs on our library bookshelf offered a narrow selection and incomplete functional information we were ultimately able to locate a satisfactory alternative only by making countless inquiries and paging through innumerable product catalogs and technical data sheets we needed but could not find a single resource that cataloged available compounds organized them in a logical and accessible format provided critical technical information to distinguish one from another and told us where we could buy them the purpose of this volume is to present a framework for incorporating architecture based dotmlpf assessments into the jcids and dod acquisition processes it presents a recommended set of assessments across the seven domains describing the information and data needed to conduct each assessment the standard architecture products that may contain the required information and data the expected output of the assessment and the general nature of the assessment i e objective or subjective the presentation is not meant to be inclusive of all potential dotmlpf or architecture related assessments that may be performed as a part of the jcids process rather it is meant to generate discussion and thought leading to further refinement and development of the ideas and concepts presented the authors extend the reach of their comprehensive reviews into theoretically driven and innovating explorations the scope of coverage across and within chapters is striking the developmentalist the methodologist the feminist the contextualist and the cross culturalist alike will find satisfaction in reading the chapters catherine a important therapies an indispensable companion to any of the other volumes of ancient records of egypt the supplementary bibliographies and indices facilitates direct access to specific information on the people places and inscriptions catalogued by james henry breasted exhaustively compiled and intelligently arranged these indices include the kings and queens temples and geographical locations divine names and titles and ranks encompassed by three thousand years of egyptian history also provided are indices of all egyptian hebrew and arabic terms mentioned in the texts as well as a complete listing of the records with their location in lepsius s denkm ler this first paperback edition of ancient records of egypt features the important addition of bibliographies by peter a piccione together with an introduction that puts breasted s historical commentaries into modern perspective these bibliographies offer valuable guidance on new translations and modern treatments of the inscriptions included in ancient records of egypt professor piccione points the reader toward recent studies of egyptian chronology and modern scholarship on egyptian and nubian history he also provides information on anthologies of egyptian texts in translation and topographical bibliographies that suggest further reading on specific ancient egyptian monuments texts and reliefs authoritative reference guide using the documents in which arms and armour first appeared to explain and define them medieval arms and armour are intrinsically fascinating from the smoke and noise of the armourer s forge to the bloody violence of the battlefield or the silken panoply of the tournament weapons and armour and those who made and bore them are woven into the fabric of medieval society this sourcebook will aid anyone who seeks to develop a deeper understanding by introducing and presenting the primary sources in which these artefacts are first mentioned over seventy original documents are transcribed and translated including wills inventories letters and chronicle accounts from a period which saw rapid advances in military technology the book also includes an extensive glossary lavishly illustrated with forty images of extant armour and weapons from the period and contemporary artistic depictions from illuminated manuscripts and other sources this book will therefore be of interest to a wide audience from the living history practitioner crafter and martial artist to students of literature military history art and material culture in this work john z
