for decades and in the interests of greater flight safety competence criteria have been introduced in professional training the results obtained in professional aviation are indisputable and the proposed new paradigm aims to increase the pilot s ability to resolve in particular unfamiliar situations there is no doubt that during soaring the conditions faced are as a general rule highly variable which requires the pilot to be highly adaptable however even though this flying technique is the one that requires the most resilience there is no single criterion in the development of training that would lead the future pilot to develop the necessary skills nor is there a single evaluation criterion that would determine a common standard from my experience in professional teaching in organisations such as cae the experience as an easa inspector and my own experience as a gliding instructor i wanted to propose a new way of teaching and above all of assessing a future glider pilot with competence criteria in which the elements of crm and tem are always present together with the application of ksa in this text i hope that gliding instructors will find a tool for teaching their classes and a greater standardisation as a guide to develop their own competence based training and assessment adapted at the local conditions and gliders the future is not white or black but an

this instructor s manual consists of two parts each arranged in the order in which the chapters appear in the text the first part is a collection of over 500 test questions the second gives answers to the questions in the student work book clearly the instructor s manual should never be shown to students great care should be taken to see that no student except a graduate assistant who needs it for scoring papers ever gets to borrow it or worse yet to borrow it most of the test questions are multiple choice but some matching exercises are also included within each chapter the multiple choice items are given first the text page on which the answer is found is given in at the right of the problem the answer is indicated by a sign at the left of the correct item alternative in some items parts of the item especially in the wrong alternatives may not appear until later chapters such questions are clearly labeled later by using later in place of a and should not be used until all the material in them has been covered they are ok for final examinations and for some midterm examinations but they obviously cannot be used in their present form as soon as their primary topic has been covered in class tell your typist that when she prepares one of your tests she should omit later the parenthetical page numbers and of course the answers to all matching items
