b 1901 d 1990 was drawn into the world of mysticism when he moved to los angeles at age 18 he quickly began to preach and lecture at the church of the people soon he was leading the evangelical congregation as its minister this began a long career that spanned thousands of lectures often well attended affairs that received local coverage in the los angeles times his growing notoriety caught the attention of a wealthy woman named carolyn lloyd who became hall s patron through her support he was able to travel the world seeking education and wisdom from diverse cultures and acquiring rare the philosophical research society a los angeles based nonprofit learning center and book collection centered on metaphysics religion and the occult founded in 1934 the prs is still in operation today magic a treatise on natural occultism explores the differences between black magic and white magic how they are practiced the justifications behind both and the inevitable results of each motive is the key to the problem of magic he explains even the greatest of white magicians can become a degenerate in an instant if his motive becomes unworthy the white magician serves humanity the black magician seeks to serve himself this ulterior motive leads the black magician into selfish and destructive behaviors rather than the wise and learned actions of the white magician who seeks only to do good through his description of black and white magic hall explores the very nature of good and evil he argues against the personification of natural principles in his view the devil is not a person at all but a natural occurrence comprised of all manner of sins he is the spirit of perversion or negation the created principle of misuse as an abuser of magic the black magician can indeed be said to serve the two great demons of creation satan saturn and lucifer mars but the white magician free of selfish desire consecrates his life to study meditation and service he molds himself into the plan becoming part of the divine rhythm by sacrificing himself and his wishes to the will of the infinite asking only to know wherein his duty lies and how he may be of the greatest service to the greatest number in part three of the work titled the mechanics of are based upon it our purpose has been to bring together not all but only a small part of what may be termed the lore of the human body for the most part the origins of the various doctrines are set forth in the text some have come from eastern scriptures some from the hermetic fragments we have called upon a wide diversity of old authorities and strangely enough there is an evident consistency viewed the human body not as the man but as the house of the man antiquity was convinced of immortality and among the wise the science of the soul occupied first place much work remains to be done in the field of occult anatomy there are many old writings yet to be consulted libraries unavailable to the public to be explored manuscripts to be deciphered the codices of central america must be made to give up their secrets the temples libraries of asia are filled with priceless documents for in india are preserved records invaluable to science our effort then is primarily to stimulate interest and to focus the attention of the learned upon this engrossing theme we are subject to errors which time alone can correct but the principle of the correspondence existing between man and the world is
