tropic of the sea is a rare look at revered anime auteur satoshi kon's first feature length manga this edition includes a dozen black and white art plates from its original serialization along with an essay written by kon in 1999 detailing his transition from the manga industry to the animation business yosuke's family has a strange tradition once every sixty years they receive an egg from a mermaid when the egg matures his family dutifully returns it to the sea where the whole process is then repeated in exchange for this favor the mer people bless his coastal town with bountiful catches of fish and calm seas but as commercial development encroaches on the sleepy seaside village and yosuke s father is lured away from tradition towards modern prosperity and turns the egg into a tourist trap what will happen to the promise their family made to the mermaids generations ago

Sea Narratives: Cultural Responses to the Sea 1600 Present explores the relationship between the sea and culture from the early modern period to the present. The collection uses the concept of the sea narrative as a lens through which to consider the multiple ways in which the sea has shaped, challenged, and expanded modes of cultural representation to produce varied, contested, and provocative chronicles of the sea across a variety of cultural forms within diverse socio-cultural moments. Sea Narratives provides a unique perspective on the relationship between the sea and cultural production it reveals the sea to be more than simply a source of creative inspiration instead showing how the sea has had a demonstrable effect on new modes and forms of narration across the cultural sphere and in turn how these forms have been essential in shaping socio cultural understandings of the sea the result is an incisive exploration of the sea s force as a cultural presence an anchor is a forged piece of iron admirably adapted to its end and technical language is an instrument wrought into perfection by ages of experience a flawless thing for its purpose an anchor of yesterday because nowadays there are contrivances like mushrooms and things like claws of no particular expression or shape just hooks an anchor of yesterday is in its way a most efficient instrument

Lords of the Sea 2014

excerpt from the physical geography of the sea the primary object of the wind and current charts out of which has grown this treatise on the physical geography of the sea was to collect the experience of every navigator as to the winds and currents of the ocean to discuss his observations upon them and then to present the world with the results on charts for the improvement of commerce and navigation by putting down on a chart the tracks of many vessels on the same voyage but at different times in different years and during all seasons and by projecting along each track the winds and currents daily encountered it was plain that navigators hereafter by consulting this chart would have for their guide the results of the combined experience of all whose tracks were thus pointed out perhaps it might be the first voyage of a young navigator to the given port when his own personal experience of the winds to be expected the currents to be encountered by the way would itself be blank if so there would be the wind and current chart it would spread out before him the tracks of a thousand vessels that had preceded him on the same voyage wherever it might be and that too at the same season of the year such a chart it was held would show him not only the tracks of the vessels but the experience also of each master as to the winds and currents by the way the temperature of the ocean and the variation of the needle all this could be taken in at a glance and thus the young mariner instead of groping his way along until the lights of experience should come to him by the slow teachings of the dearest of all schools would here find at once that he had already the experience of a thousand navigators to guide him on his voyage he might therefore set out upon his first voyage with as much confidence in his knowledge as to the winds and currents he might expect to meet with as though he himself had already been that way a thousand times before on my first voyage as chief mate with good captain macw i remember that i felt quite flattered and went blithely about my duties myself a commander for all practical purposes still whatever the greatness of my illusion the fact remained that the real commander was there backing up my self confidence until i was unlucky enough to catch my captain in the act of hasty cork drawing the sight i may say gave me an awful scare i was well aware of the morbidly sensitive nature of the man fortunately i managed to draw back unseen and taking care to stamp heavily with my sea boots at the foot of the cabin stairs i made my second entry but for this unexpected glimpse no act of his during the next twenty four hours could have given me the slightest suspicion that all was not well with his nerve grave this sailor s requiem bag pipes at sea above the shouting of the gale the whipping sheet the dashing spray i heard with notes of joy and wail a piper play along the dipping deck he trod the dusk about his shadowy form he seemed like some strange ancient god of song and storm he gave his dim seen pipes a skirl and war went down the darkling air then came a sudden subtle swirl and love was there what were the winds that flailed and flayed the sea to him the night obscure in dreams he strayed some brackened glade some heathery moor and if he saw the slanting spars and if he watched the shifting track he marked too the eternal stars shine through the wrack and so amid the deep sea din and so amid the wastes of foam afar his heart was happy in his highland home the wind and the sea never the long wind dieth never never but sigheth crieth in its old endeavor where the shifting sand and shingle meet and mingle and the lifting land and
