of law and human rights have become key components in state and peace building around the world many donor governments and international organisations have promoted them in their aid and assistance however the promotion of these international norms is based on a flawed understanding of sovereignty and the world for this reason the enforcement of these international norms in myanmar not only fails to protect vulnerable people but also in some instances exacerbates the situation thereby generating critical insecurity to the most vulnerable people a vital resource for scholars of myanmar s politics as well as a valuable case study for international relations scholars more broadly the university is often regarded as a bastion of liberal democracy where equity and diversity are vigorously promoted in reality the university still excludes many people and is a site of racialization that is subtle complex and sophisticated this book the first comprehensive data based study of racialized and indigenous faculty members experiences in canadian universities challenges the myth of equity in higher education drawing on a rich body of survey data interviews and analysis of universities stated policies leading scholars scrutinize what universities have done and question the effectiveness of their employment equity programs they also make important recommendations as to how universities can address racialization and fulfill the promise of equity in the academy this volume presents a comprehensive and up to date overview of major developments in the study of how phraseology is used in a wide range of different legal and institutional contexts this recent interest has been mainly sparked by the development of corpus linguistics research which has both demonstrated the centrality of phraseological patterns in language and provided researchers with new and powerful analytical tools however there have been relatively few empirical studies of word combinations in the domain of law and in the many different contexts where legal discourse is used this book seeks to address this gap by presenting some of the latest developments in the study of this linguistic phenomenon from corpus based and interdisciplinary perspectives the volume draws on current research in legal phraseology from a variety of perspectives translation comparative contrastive studies terminology lexicography discourse analysis and forensic linguistics it contains contributions from leading experts in the field focusing on a wide range of issues amply illustrated through in depth corpus informed analyses and case studies most contributions to this book are multilingual featuring different legal systems and legal languages the volume will be a valuable resource for linguists interested in phraseology as well as lawyers and legal scholars translators lexicographers terminologists and students who wish to pursue research in the area significant characteristics of modern scientific journals including their role in the certification and registration of scientific knowledge emerged only toward the end of the nineteenth and into the twentieth century the nineteenth century was a period of rapid expansion and diversification in scientific periodicals and this collection sets the historical exploration of those periodicals on a new footing examining their distinctive purposes and character specifically it shows the important role they played in expanding developing and organizing communities of scientific practitioners and devotees during a century that witnessed blanket transformations in the scientific enterprise the influence of roland barthes on burgin s work is well documented equally burgin s prominence as an artist and theorist concerned with text and image offers a productive dialogue with barthes work victor burgin has long been considered both theorist and practitioner while barthes is more known as a theorist and writer in bringing to the fore barthes s practice of painting and drawing barthes burgin prompts a new critical consideration of barthes burgin theory practice writing making and criticality visuality barthes burgin features two new interviews with burgin one concerned with his turn to new digital practices and the other a reflection on his reading of roland barthes also included are images and texts from the artists and an essay critically examining barthes exercises in drawing and painting this book examines the buffalo public schools and their admissions process following a civil rights complaint filed by parents and community leaders the authors offer research based recommendations for reducing barriers to enrollment and for creating competitive admissions choice systems that will allow all students access to important educational opportunities looking beyond the events of the second intifada and 9 11 this book reveals how targeted killing is intimately embedded in both israeli and us statecraft and in the problematic relationship between sovereign authority and lawful violence underpinning the modern state system it details the legal and political issues raised in targeted killing as it has emerged in practice including questions of domestic constitutional authority the use of force in international law the law of belligerent occupation the law of targeting and human rights law the distinctive nature of israeli and us targeted killing is analysed in terms of the compulsion of legality characteristic of the liberal constitutional state a compulsion that demands the ability to distinguish between legal targeted killing and extra legal political assassination the effect is a highly legalized framework for the extraterritorial killing of designated terrorists that may significantly affect the international law of force this work offers a detailed reconstruction of the campaigns for and trials resulting in the beatification in 1626 and subsequent canonization in 1669 of the florentine mystic nun maria maddalena de pazzi 1566 1607 clare copeland places her findings in the wide context of the politics of saint making at a time of particular significance for the history of roman catholic canonization the protestant reformation had put the roman catholic church on the defensive in this area of devotional practice and the period covered in this volume ca 1600 1669 saw far reaching reforms in the ways in which sanctity was measured and adjudicated by rome copeland shows how these developments need to be seen less in terms of a top down attempt by the central organs of ecclesiastical control to impose a hegemony of holiness and more in terms of negotiation over the meanings of sanctity and how it relates to canonization between the various stakeholders this comprehensive volume was put together in response to the growing amount of research on tourism in asia and an increasing number of authors from asian countries it concentrates on two aspects of asian tourism first the asian tourists themselves and second economic development and tourism in the asian region the first part of the collection focuses on three areas the motivations of different types of asian tourist the characteristics and behaviour of particular asian tourist segments and finally an analysis of specific research issues the second part of the book then goes on to explore the governance and organisation of tourism in the asian region and the nature of asian growth and competitiveness as it relates to tourism the articles in this book were originally published in the journal current issues in tourism this book explores the intersection between adaptation studies and what james f english has called the economy of prestige which includes formal prize culture as well as less tangible expressions such as canon formation fandom authorship and performance the chapters explore how prestige can affect many facets of the adaptation process including selection approach and reception the first section of this volume deals directly with cycles of influence involving prizes such as the pulitzer the man Booker and other major awards the second section focuses on the juncture where adaptation the canon and awards culture meet while the third considers alternative modes of locating and expressing prestige through adapted and adaptive intertexts this book will be of interest to students and scholars of adaptation cultural sociology film and literature a riveting panoramic look at homegrown islamist terrorism from 9 11 to the present since 9 11 more than three hundred americans born and raised in minnesota alabama new jersey and elsewhere have been indicted or convicted of terrorism charges some have taken the fight abroad an american was among those who planned the attacks in mumbai and more than eighty u s citizens have been charged with isis related crimes others have acted on american soil as with the attacks at fort hood the boston marathon and in san bernardino what motivates them how are they trained and what do we sacrifice in our efforts to track them paced like a detective story united states of jihad tells the entwined stories of the key actors on the american front among the

The book explores the relationship between the global and the local in the context of myanmar's politics and international relations. It examines how international norms are adopted and exploited in the local context, and how this affects the promotion of these norms by donor governments and international organisations. The book also discusses the role of human rights and democracy in the liberal international world order, and how these have become key components in state and peace building around the world. The book is a valuable resource for scholars of myanmar's politics, as well as for international relations scholars more broadly.

The Oxford Handbook of Language Contact 2022-07-11 looking beyond the events of the second intifada and 9 11 this book reveals how targeted killing is intimately embedded in both israeli and us statecraft and in the problematic relationship between sovereign authority and lawful violence underpinning the modern state system it details the legal and political issues raised in targeted killing as it has emerged in practice including questions of domestic constitutional authority the use of force in international law the law of belligerent occupation the law of targeting and human rights law the distinctive nature of israeli and us targeted killing is analysed in terms of the compulsion of legality characteristic of the liberal constitutional state a compulsion that demands the ability to distinguish between legal targeted killing and extra legal political assassination the effect is a highly legalized framework for the extraterritorial killing of designated terrorists that may significantly affect the international law of force

The Power of Music 1888 this work offers a detailed reconstruction of the campaigns for and trials resulting in the beatification in 1626 and subsequent canonization in 1169 of the florentine mystic nun maria maddalena de pazzi 1566 1607 clare copeland places her findings in the wide context of the politics of saint making at a time of particular significance for the history of roman catholic canonization the protestant reformation had put the roman catholic church on the defensive in this area of devotional practice and the period covered in this volume ca 1600 1669 saw far reaching reforms in the ways in which sanctity was measured and adjudicated by rome copeland shows how these developments need to be seen less in terms of a top down attempt by the central organs of ecclesiastical control to impose a hegemony of holiness and more in terms of negotiation over the meanings of sanctity and how it relates to canonization between the various stakeholders
