there is great consistency throughout these articles research projects management schemes and standards in and out of librarianship does the repetition suggest that the lessons have not yet been learned rather it may be that there is no new silver bullet or shortcut for academic libraries experience reveals that one may have the formal process without getting good results and vice versa the determining factor is whether the library staff managers and stakeholders define certain fundamental assumptions about the nature of the enterprise all the above have in common the following underlying components the careful definition of goals or of some kind of criteria against which success can be assessed a focus on meeting the needs of the users as defined by the library and the institution leadership a commitment from the top conscious efforts at ensuring communication the provision of training and resources for the process of evaluation the active support of a process to promote shared values the involvement of all levels of staff in goal setting evaluation and the improvement of processes and services integrating a process of evaluation that is continuous and adaptive whether that process is based on the framework of tqm strategic planning or another model a thorough treatment of the statistical methods used to analyze doubly truncated data in the statistical analysis of doubly truncated data an expert team of statisticians delivers an up to date review of existing methods used to deal with randomly truncated data with a focus on the challenging problem of random double truncation the authors comprehensively introduce doubly truncated data before moving on to discussions of the latest developments in the field the book offers readers examples with r code along with real data from astronomy engineering and the biomedical sciences to illustrate and highlight the methods described within linear regression models for doubly truncated responses are provided and the influence of the bandwidth in the performance of kernel type estimators as well as guidelines for the selection of the smoothing parameter are explored fully nonparametric and semiparametric estimators are explored and illustrated with real data r code for reproducing the data examples is also provided the book also offers a thorough introduction to the existing methods that deal with randomly truncated data comprehensive explorations of linear regression models for doubly truncated responses practical discussions of the influence of bandwidth in the performance of kernel type estimators and guidelines for the selection of the smoothing parameter in depth examinations of nonparametric and semiparametric estimators perfect for statistical professionals with some background in mathematical statistics biostatisticians and mathematicians with an interest in survival analysis and epidemiology the statistical analysis of doubly truncated data is also an invaluable addition to the libraries of biomedical scientists and practitioners as well as postgraduate students studying survival analysis
