r s sugirtharajah shows how at the height of european colonialism whilst the colonizers were studying the sacred texts of hindus muslims buddhists sikhs and zoroastrians the hindus were themselves scrutinizing the invader's book the christian bible sugirtharajah examines how these hindus transformed the bible into what they deemed fit for and suited to their contexts the result was that the bible acquired a totally different form and lost its authority as the book of the empire sugirtharajah shows how the resistant subversive and at times antagonistic readings of the hindus went beyond what the colonizer had intended sadly what these hindus made of the bible went largely unnoticed and was ignored by western scholarship this volume seeks to rectify this regrettable omission and to place both the hindu reformers and nationalists attitude to the bible in their own specific context and to allow them to speak on their own terms rather than reading them with christian preconception the hindu reformers covered include figures such as raja rammohun roy arumuga navalar keshub chunder sen swami vivekananda ponnambalam ramanathan m k gandhi and sarvepalli radhakrishnan and nationalists such as dhirendranath chowdhary sita ram goel and ram swarup the book contains the interpretative context the textual negotiation that went on between these hindus and the missionaries and orientalist examples of their hinduization of the bible and the hermeneutical impact on mainstream biblical interpretation among the galaxy of scholars swami vivekananda stands out as a majestic tower of light who has given a new tempo to the building up of a new sense of nationalism in modern india the uniqueness of vivekananda was his endeavour to translate every ounce of vedanta into a social living and was never a cold theoretician or an abstract metaphysician he was aware that india s life is governed by her sovereign sense of the infinite and inclusiveness which nourished her national life and India has been a spiritual strength for her people implanting the seeds that have continuously sprouted and flowered in her art literature religion philosophy science and politics it is a civilization that should be seen not as a closed system or as a finished product but as a dynamic and unfolding process whatever the differences India's spiritual heritage should be recognized as the focal point and to be appropriated in the conception of a new resurgent India regrettably what we had been glorifying as the central value of this culture and civilization is disorientated today due to the brutal exhibition of barbarous instincts which were exhibited through the rivalry between religious groups what is being experienced is the loss of inherited values and our inability in reinventing new values by virtue of its characteristic pluralism and its continuously evolving synthesis India represents a nation which is continuously unfolding its civilizational potentialities in making of such an Indian ethos the foundational ideal which has been the basis of Indian culture and civilization is the concept of dharma and Vivekananda was able to comprehend and articulate the relation between morality dharma and human affairs which are the concerns of practical Vedanta

this book is the first systematic study of the genealogy discursive structures and political implications of the concept of greater india implying a hindu colonization of southeast asia and used by extension to argue for a past indian greatness as a colonial power reproducible in the present and future from the 1880s to the 1960s protagonists of the greater india theme attempted to make a case for the importance of an expansionist indian civilisation in civilizing southeast asia the argument was extended to include central asia africa north and south america and other regions where indian migrants were to be found the advocates of this indocentric and hindu revivalist approach with hindu and indian often taken to be synonymous were involved in a quintessentially parochial project despite its apparently international dimensions to justify an indian expansionist imagination that viewed india's past as a colonizer and civilizer of other lands as a model for the restoration of that past greatness in the future zabarskaite shows that the crucial ideologues and elements used for the formation of the construct of greater india can be traced to the svadeśī movement of the turn of the century and that greater india moved easily between the domains of the scholarly and the popular as it sought to establish itself as a form of nationalist self assertion about the book the journey of advaita elucidates the richness depth and profundity of advaitic thought right from vedas to integral advaitism of sri aurobindo and further how it is being incorporated in modern science advaita philosophy is not a later development of thought as one of the six systems of indian philosophy vedas are replete with suggestions about unity the earlier stage of naturalistic and anthropomorphic polytheism yielded to monistic belief in the dictum ekam sad viprā bahudhā vadanti we perceive an echo of unity upaniṣadic seers picked up this unity and tirelessly went in their search till they came to the highest conclusion tat tvam asi this concept of unity gets its full bloom in Śaṅkara s kevalādvaita later on it gave inspiration to different rivulets of vedānta schools Śaṅkara s unqualified impersonal brahman could not satisfy those who sought loving communion with god consequently different schools of bhakti vedānta came into existence namely viśiṣṭādvaita of rāmānuja dvaita of madhva dvaitādvaita of nimbārka and Śuddhādvaita of vallabha for all of them the emphasis is on the liberation of individual soul only which gave way to sri aurobindo's integral advaitism where the emphasis is not only on spiritualization of man but of the whole cosmos the journey continues further with modern physics consciousness is the building block of the universe and the ground of all beings which can't be found in plural about the author dr priti sinha retired as the head department of philosophy vasanta college banaras hindu university after twenty eight years of service an alumnus of the university she holds a doctorate and postgraduate degrees both in philosophy as well as religion and philosophy she has been recognized for her work in several national and international seminars an accomplished musician dr sinha has the distinction of choreographing dance dramas human puppetry and designing costumes for stage plays especially historical dramas
