paul cezanne was one of the greatest of the french impressionist painters this delightful book follows his son also called paul as he travels to the mountains to spend a summer with his father he discovers that his father a very large man paints the natural world with a passion that few can understand but one day they meet an art dealer in a village who offers to try to sell some of the paintings in paris the rest is history the reader gains a real insight into cezanne the man through the eyes of a child sometimes frightening fastidious he won t touch other people warm hearted driven by a passion for his art and it provides a vivid introduction to cezanne s work with reproductions of his most famous paintings incorporated in the illustrations young paul cézanne goes on an expedition in the south of france with his artist father who shares his name where the two encounter an art dealer named vollard and the elder paul paints a portrait of his son this book offers trans historical and trans national perspectives on the image of the artist as a public figure in the popular discourse and imagination since the rise of notions of artistic autonomy and the simultaneous demise of old systems of patronage from the late eighteenth century onwards artists have increasingly found themselves confronted with the necessity of developing a public persona in the same period new audiences for art discovered their fascination for the life and work of the artist the rise of new media such as the illustrated press photography and film meant that the needs of both parties could easily be satisfied in both words and images thanks to these new media the artist was transformed from a simple producer of works of art into a public figure the aim of this volume is to reflect on this transformative process and to study the specific role of the media themselves which visual media were deployed to what effect and with what kind of audiences in mind how did the artist critic photographer and filmmaker interact in the creation of these representations of the artist s image mastering primary languages introduces the primary languages curriculum and helps trainees and journalists and casual observers who mostly interpret it as diplomatic or somehow persuasive hard power is seen by contrast as something more tangible and usually military but this is a superficial appreciation of a more subtle concept and one key to britain s future on the international stage britain s persuaders is a deep exploration of this phenomenon using new research into the instruments of soft power evident in british society and most relevant to the 2020s some like the british council or the bbc world service are explicitly intended to generate soft power in accordance with governmental intentions but rather more like the entertainment industries sport professional regulatory bodies hospitality industries or education sectors have more penetrating soft power effects even as they pursue their own independent or commercial rationales this book conducts an up to date audit of all britain s principal sources of soft power situating its analysis within the current understanding of the smart power of nation states that desire to employ the full spectrum of policy instruments and national characteristics to achieve policy outcomes specifically in the context of brexit britain where soft power status is certain to loom larger during the 2020s with her trademark brio and deep tissue understanding maria tatar opens the glass casket on this undying story which
