in 1920 w e b du bois cited the damnation of women as linked to the devaluation of motherhood this dilemma he argues had a crushing blow on black women as they were forced into slavery black womanhood portrayed as hypersexual by nature became an enduring stereotype which did not coincide with the dignity of mother and wife this portrayal continues to reinforce negative stereotypes of black women in the media today this book highlights how black women have been negatively portrayed in the media focusing on the export nature of media and its ability to convey notions of blackness to the public it argues that media such as rap music videos television dramas reality television shows and newscasts create and affect expectations of black women exploring the role that racism misogyny and media play in the representation of black womanhood it provides a foundation for challenging contemporary media s portrayal of black women

this first of two volumes extends from the founding of the colony of georgia in 1733 up to the progressive era from the beginning georgia women were instrumental in shaping the state yet most histories minimize their contributions the essays in this volume include women of many ethnicities and classes who played an important role in georgia s history though sources for understanding the lives of women in georgia during the colonial period are scarce the early essays profile mary musgrove an important player in the relations between the creek nation and the british crown and the loyalist elizabeth johnston who left georgia for nova scotia in 1806 another essay examines the near mythical quality of the american revolution era accounts of georgia s war woman nancy hart the later essays are multifaceted in their examination of the way different women experienced georgia s antebellum social and political life the tumult of the civil war and the lingering consequences of both the conflict itself and emancipation after the war both necessity and opportunity changed women s lives as educated white women like eliza andrews established or taught in schools and as african american women like lucy craft laney who later founded the haines institute attended school for the first time georgia women also profiles reform minded women like mary latimer mclendon rebecca latimer felton mildred rutherford nellie peters black and martha berry who worked tirelessly for causes ranging from temperance to suffrage to education the stories of the women portrayed in this volume provide valuable glimpses into the lives and experiences of all georgia women during the first century and a half of the state s existence historical figures include mary musgrove nancy hart elizabeth lichtenstein johnston ellen craft fanny kemble frances butler leigh susie king taylor eliza frances andrews amanda america dickson mary ann harris gay rebecca latimer felton mary latimer mclendon mildred lewis rutherford nellie peters black lucy craft laney martha berry corra harris juliette gordon low
