would be resolved and much of the world s suffering wouldn t be in vain if only we could transform the wars in the middle east and elsewhere in this world into the likes of randy s sand trays war of the ancient dragon transformation of violence in sandplay is a major contribution to jungian psychology sandplay therapy and to the world at large i urge you to read and to tell others about this powerfully moving book mel mathews publisher fisher king press six year old randy conducts bloody wars in the sandtray calling them world war one world war two and the war of the ancient dragon he burns fires and bombs helpless victims killing some and saving others what could possibly be going on in his imagination the contents of his imagination what the alchemists call the realm of subtle bodies are revealed in his sandplay from one session to the next and there we see the raw autonomous dynamism that motivates randy already branded a bully and nearly expelled from first grade we see fiery destructive conflict part his part his culture s part lived part projected a conflict of archetypal opposites that engulf randy s personality and fuel his violent behavior but also from randy s imaginal world out of the very war between opposites that drives him the unknown third possibility unfolds allowed to exist and be seen with a paradoxical healing aim the war fights itself out over time in the safe container of the sandtray finds its unpredictable resolution and the most terrible disaster that one group of human beings can inflict on another is war wars cause misery on an indescribable scale yet we go on doing it to one another generation after generation why warfare is a recurrent and universal characteristic of human existence the mythologies of practically all peoples abound in wars and the superhuman deeds of warriors and pre literate communities apparently delighted in the recital of stories about battles since our species became literate a mere 5 000 years ago written history has mostly been the history of wars thousands who knew war evidently sickened of it and dreamt of lasting peace expressing their vision in literature and art in philosophy and religion they imagined utopias freed of martial ambition and bloodshed which harked back to the golden age of classical antiquity to the christian vision of a paradise lost and to the arcadia of greek and latin poetry so richly celebrated in the canvases of claude and poussin all these things bear eloquent testimony to the human longing for peace but they have not triumphed over our dreadfully powerful propensity to war from the introduction by anthony stevens in this multi disciplinary collection of essays on the manifestations of war in poetry fiction drama music and documentaries scholars and practitioners from an international context describe the transformation of the war experience into chronicles of hope and despair from herodotus up to the present day
