The Struggle for Black Arts in Britain 1986 during the 1960s and 1970s a cadre of poets playwrights visual artists musicians and other visionaries came together to create a renaissance in african american literature and art this charged chapter in the history of african american culture which came to be known as the black arts movement has remained largely neglected by subsequent generations of critics new thoughts on the black arts movement includes essays that reexamine well known figures such as amiri baraka larry neal gwendolyn brooks sonia sanchez betye saar jeff donaldson and haki madhubuti in addition the anthology expands the scope of the movement by offering essays that explore the racial and sexual politics of the era links with other period cultural movements the arts in prison the role of black colleges and universities gender politics and the rise of feminism color fetishism photography music and more an invigorating look at a movement that has long begged for reexamination this collection lucidly interprets the complex debates that surround this tumultuous era and demonstrates that the celebration of this movement need not be separated from its critique perspectives from the critical decade what is black art this vital anthology gives voice to a generation of artists of african asian and caribbean heritage who worked within and against british art institutions in the 1980s including sonia boyce lubaina himid eddie chambers and rasheed araeen it brings together artists statements interviews exhibition catalogue essays and reviews most of which have been unavailable for many years and resonate profoundly today together they interrogate the term black art itself and revive a forgotten dialogue from a time when men and women who had been marginalized made themselves heard within the art world and beyond how the work of the black british artists of the 1980s should be viewed historically they consider the political cultural and artistic developments that sparked the movement even as they explore the extent to which such a diverse body of work can be said to constitute a distinct artistic movement particularly given that black in britain in the 1980s encompassed those of south asian north and nationalism of the 1960s artistic collectives had sprung up around the country in a diffuse outgrowth known as the black arts movement these impulses resonated with bag s founders who sought to raise black consciousness and explore the far book which accompanies an exhibition of the same title focuses on the life and work of memphis born detroit harold neal who created some of the most forceful artistic statements of the civil rights and black power movements it also discusses other detroit african american artists including his predecessors hughie lee smith and oliver lagrone who greatly influenced his career his contemporaries glanton dowdell charles mcgee jon onye lockard henri umbaji king leroy foster and shirley woodson and his successors aaron ibn pori pitts and allie mcghee who were greatly impacted by his work additionally the book addresses the rift in the detroit african american art community in the wake of the black power black arts movements neal like other artists of the black arts movement felt that art should speak directly to the experience of african americans using african american figurative subjects while others artists like charles mcgee sought to compete in the white art world working in the abstract non objective styles then dominant in new york galleries the result of some ten years of research this book presents a view of post world war ii african american art history essentially unknown
