this book serves as the corridor to one's self it began as a humble attempt to interrogate the performance history of swadeshi bengal the burgeoning public space and audibility of voices hitherto unheard presented a two way problem for the colonisers as well as for the colonised the thinking mind that hid behind a facade of obedience suddenly appeared before all the transparent veil separating the hidden from the manifest was torn apart in the context of swadeshi and boycott agitation performative spaces like theatre jatra and songs did not just serve as a forum for disseminating the notions of nationhood put forward by the intellectuals the ideas gained a life of their own once they were placed in the performative space encompassing both the performer and the audience recipient of the ideas the notion underwent a change at various planes of consciousness the notion of nation as disseminated by the performances acquired a different meaning at the level of enactment and attained an entirely new substance when received by the audience none of these exchanges occurred in complete passivity of any one party present in the performative space consequently the emergent emotion of nationhood developed as a nuanced image of self this book has tried to locate the beginning of that emotion of national self here the history of the indonesian lbt movement is charted from invisibility to visibility and now as it moves again into hiding in the early 1980s during the oppressive military dictatorship called the new order in indonesia the first organizations of lesbian bisexual and trans persons were established they were short lived but prepared the ground for a more comprehensive lbt rights movement after the democratic opening of society in 1998 from 2000 to 2015 the visibility of the movement grew until a vicious state sponsored backlash set in driven by majoritarian fundamentalist islamist groups saskia wieringa tracks the movement s progress and explores the persistence of the butch femme model of relationships the proliferations of identities family violence and conversion therapy religion and the anti lgbt campaign in its insistence on the local dynamics of this movement the book aims to debunk the idea that homosexuality is a western import chapters deal with the many religious and secular phenomena that are linked with gender diversity and same sex relations traditionally and the erasure of many of these traditions is explained using the concept of postcolonial amnesia a political biography of the indonesian lesbian bisexual and trans movement is also a contribution to the growing literature on decolonization studies pointing out that its dynamics its historical course and its present condition different as they are from the dominant western view on a global lgbt movement needs to be considered as valuable as accounts of western lgbt histories are
