where the implications of war and peace are open to question the possibility of change depends more on politics than economics this book asks whether the region s great powers can overcome opposing interests and commit to political restraint the concept of regional security is based on great power support for regional order however there are many pitfalls to consider notably the politics of contested nationalisms the asia pacific rivalry of china and the us and india s inclinations to function or be seen as a benevolent hegemon for the region yet there are signs of renewed determination to move the region in new directions while china s silk road projects are long term regional investments that hinge on regional stability the us is attempting to fashion new partnerships and india strives to reconcile regional differences to promote a peaceful environment this book as it sets out the emerging agendas of the great powers and local powers makes a significant contribution to a better understanding of the international relations and diplomatic politics of south asia
