faiths from ancient to modern times it addresses a gap in the scholarly debate on the nature of religious violence by bringing scholars that specialize in pre modern religions and scriptural traditions into the same sphere of discussion as those specializing in contemporary manifestations of religious violence moving beyond the question of the authenticity of religious violence this book brings together scholars from a variety of disciplines contributors explore the central role that religious texts have played in encouraging as well as confronting violence the interdisciplinary conversation that takes place challenges assumptions that religious violence is a modern problem that can be fully understood without reference to religious scriptures beliefs or history each chapter focuses its analysis on a particular case study from a distinct historical period taken as a whole these chapters attest to the persistent relationship between religion and violence that links the ancient and contemporary worlds this is a dynamic collection of explorations into how religion and violence intersect as such it will be a key resource for any scholar of religious positive and negative impacts of such exchanges and serves as a basis for future research and program design cultural and educational exchanges in various forms have existed for millennia yet it was not until the unprecedented human devastation of two world wars catalyzed a sense of urgency around the world that a new era of cultural and educational exchange programs emerged as a means of easing tensions between rival states and societies this book is motivated by the need for critical research that can contribute to building a more comprehensive understanding of the issues at stake it begins with a historical overview of cultural and educational exchanges between rival societies an assessment of their positive and negative impacts and a review of some of the most prominent theories in relevant fields it then presents a diverse set of case studies in which authors consider not only the real or expected benefits of such exchanges but also the potentially negative impacts challenges faced along the way and broader effects on the rival societies at large the states and societies considered include north korea and the west bosnia and herzegovina israel and the palestinian territories india and pakistan china and taiwan cuba and the us and china and the us taken together the chapters demonstrate that exchanges have observable impacts on the individuals and institutions involved moreover they reveal that exchanges have the capacity in some cases to affect broader social and political change at the family community society or state level but these impacts are inchirectioned typically require long terms concerted efforts by those involved calling it a virtual cinemath que on video the telluride film festival gave its covered signer good dien and the signer good breakfast and breakfast
