Profiles of Drug Substances, Excipients, and Related Methodology 2018-04-17 this book provides a forum for methodological discussions emanating from researchers engaged in studying how individuals acquire an additional language whereas publications in the field of second language acquisition generally report on empirical studies with relatively little space dedicated to questions of method the current book gave authors the opportunity to more fully develop a discussion piece around a methodological issue in connection with the interpretation of language learning data the result is a set of seven thought provoking contributions from researchers with diverse interests three main topics are addressed in these chapters the role of native speaker norms in second language analyses the impact of epistemological stance on experimental design and or data interpretation and the challenges of transcription and annotation of language learning data with a focus on data ambiguity authors expand on these crucial issues reflect on best practices and provide in many instances concrete examples of the impact they have on data interpretation

Country profile of the epidemiology and clinical management of early childhood caries, volume II 2023-06-29 includes the proceedings Clinical Gynecologic Endocrinology and Infertility 2012-03-28 eva alcón soler maria pilar safont jordà universitat jaume i spain the main purpose of the present book is to broaden the scope of research on the development of intercultural communicative competence bearing this purpose in mind english learners are considered as intercultural speakers who share their interest for engaging in real life communication according to byram and fleming 1998 the intercultural speaker is someone with knowledge of one or more cultures and social identities and who enjoys discovering and maintaining relationships with people from other cultural backgrounds although s he has not been formally trained for that purpose besides possessing knowledge of at least two cultures is the case of many learners in bilingual or multilingual communities in these contexts the objective of language learning should then focus on developing intercultural competence which in turn may involve promoting language diversity while encouraging english as both a means and an end of instruction see alcón this volume this is the idea underlying the volume which further sustains kramersch s argument 1998 against the native non native dichotomy following that author we also believe that in a multilingual world where learners may belong to more than one speech community their main goal is not to become a native speaker of english but to use this language as a tool for interaction among many other languages and cultures
