struggle are women still obstructed from full political citizenship by a glass ceiling manon tremblay s 100 questions about women and politics discusses electoral politics in canada and abroad focusing on women s rights to vote and run for office in legislative elections political parties voting systems electoral quotas for women and participation in parliaments and governments against a background of observations taken from academic research tremblay uses an innovative approach by dividing her book into 100 questions and answers to address a range of important issues are electorates sexist or lesbophobic are family responsibilities a real obstacle to women s engagement in politics what strategies are available to increase the number of female politicians are gender quotas democratic once elected to office do women represent women how does women s political citizenship in canada compare to that in other countries a timely book on the unfinished work of representative democracy 100 questions about women and politics takes a comprehensive yet concise approach to demystifying the major issues dominating the study of gender and government this study investigates the distribution of linguistic and specifically structural diversity in northeast asia nea defined as the region north of the yellow river and east of the yenisei in particular it analyzes what is called the grammar of questions gq i e those aspects of any given language that are specialized for asking questions or regularly combine with these the bulk of the study is a bottom up description and comparison of gqs in the languages of nea the addition of the phrase and beyond to the title of this study serves two purposes first languages such as turkish and chuvash are included despite the fact that they are spoken outside of nea since they have ties to or even originated in the region second despite its focus on one area the typology is intended to be applicable to other languages as well therefore it makes extensive use of data from languages outside of nea the restriction to one category is necessary for reasons of space and clarity and the process of zooming in on one region allows a higher resolution and historical accuracy than is usually the case in linguistic typology the discussion mentions over 450 languages and dialects from nea and beyond and gives about 900 glossed examples the aim is to achieve both a cross linguistically plausible typology and a maximal resolution of the linguistic diversity of northeast asia proton therapy is rapidly expanding in patient care throughout the world once limited to a few centers of care continued process improvements in the scope and design of proton facilities have now permitted proton centers to develop at an enterprise level in multiple geographic centers this is important for all aspects of patient care in both adult and pediatric patients although initially felt to be limited to a selected number of disease sites proton therapy such as stereotactic radiosurgery can be easily applied to all disease sites intensity modulated proton therapy is now delivered on a routine basis as proton centers now have tools used by photon systems to deliver care coupled with the integration of image guidance proton centers now can deliver therapy with the ease of photon centers with the distinct advantage of additional sparing of normal tissue the trajectory of proton care is significant however there remains much to be learned about proton care as we review and compare outcomes this addresses several key issues that will help us further refine proton care in the future a new and updated definitive resource for survey questionnaire testing and evaluation building on the success of the first questionnaire development evaluation and testing qdet conference in 2002 this book brings together leading papers from the second international conference on questionnaire design development evaluation and testing qdet2 held in 2016 the volume assesses the current state of the art and science of qdet examines the importance of methodological attention to the questionnaire in the present world of information collection and ponders how the qdet field can anticipate new trends and directions as information needs and data collection methods continue to evolve featuring contributions from international experts in survey methodology advances in questionnaire design development evaluation and testing includes latest insights on question

A typology of questions in Northeast Asia and beyond 2023-03-27

this study investigates the distribution of linguistic and specifically structural diversity in northeast asia nea defined as the region north of the yellow river and east of the yenisei in particular it analyzes what is called the grammar of questions gq i e those aspects of any given language that are specialized for asking questions or regularly combine with these the bulk of the study is a bottom up description and comparison of gqs in the languages of nea the addition of the phrase and beyond to the title of this study serves two purposes first languages such as turkish and chuvash are included despite the fact that they are spoken outside of nea since they have ties to or even originated in the region second despite its focus on one area the typology is intended to be applicable to other languages as well therefore it makes extensive use of data from languages outside of nea the restriction to one category is necessary for reasons of space and clarity and the process of zooming in on one region allows a higher resolution and historical accuracy than is usually the case in linguistic typology the discussion mentions over 450 languages and dialects from nea and beyond and gives about 900 glossed examples the aim is to achieve both a cross linguistically plausible typology and a maximal resolution of the linguistic diversity of northeast asia
