Death and the American South

1979-07

In a night of unforgettable tragedy, the world's most famous liner struck an iceberg on 14 April 1912 and sank. Over 1500 people died, whose fault it was and how the passengers and crew reacted has been the subject of continuing dispute over the 100 years since the disaster. This is an account of Titanic's tragic maiden voyage, which also focuses on some of those who died among them: Titanic's captain Edward Smith and builder Thomas Andrews, John Jacob Astor, the richest man on board, and the bandmaster Wallace Hartley, who played as the ship sank. In this centenary edition, Stephanie Barczewski traces the events of that fatal night, many of those who died were treated as heroes, and how these men were remembered says much about contemporary values of manhood, chivalry, and national pride. Titanic: A Night Remembered also sets the liner in the context of three ports: Belfast, where she was built; Southampton, which lost 600 citizens as members of her crew; and Queenstown in Ireland, her last port of call.
