if you re at this point you must be getting ready for your english language exams so we have a few words of advice for you exams aren t bad they re your opportunity to show off just how much you know about english and you have been studying it since you were five so you definitely know a thing or two don t worry about your exams worry never changes anything instead try and see them as an opportunity to show off what you know practising exam papers is a good way to revise and because this exam is still relatively new there aren t that many past papers out there the papers in this book have been created to try and replicate the exam experience for you some people might suggest using your literature texts for practice but the whole point of this exam is that it is unseen it s best to work on extracts you ve never read before there is more than one way to tackle an exam paper you could sit it in one go and complete it in exam conditions from start to finish you could go at the papers gently with modelled examples in front of you to help check out the videos at youtube com mrbruff another method is to try three question threes all in a row slide tackling your way through the paper you might want to complete all of the section b questions before beginning section a however you do it take your time and use the indicative content at the end to check your work the indicative content isn t everything you might make a point that we haven t included marking your own work is quite difficult so although these are good to practise on you should share with someone who understands the marking system to mark your work and give you feedback this

seminar paper from the year 2004 in the subject english language and literature studies linguistics grade 2 3 university of koblenz landau anglistik course the story of english language english abstract the 15th century must be seen as the age of innovation in europe for the spread of renaissance culture as we know it today several factors were decisive advances in the fields of arts e.g architecture painting and literature science e.g geography astronomy and medicine economy e.g flourishing international trade and of course technology as the example of the printing press shows by definition the printing press is a mechanical device for printing many copies of a text on rectangular sheets of paper this definition might give the impression we are dealing with a simple gadget and a rather unspectacular procedure but until 1450 the original method of printing was block printing pressing sheets of paper into individually carved wooden blocks which would not last very long because of the pressure exercised upon them during the process of printing knowing this the invention of the printing press seems even more valuable as the former method described here required a lot of energy money and time and yielded a relatively ridiculous output a less costly method of producing printed material needed to be found and the former goldsmith johannes guttenberg 1398 1468 from mainz in germany is acknowledged as the pioneer in this field he experimented with metal alloy and finally created movable types which could be used and reused for printing without the effect of wearing down like the wooden material immediately the printing press had the effect of multiplying the output and cutting the costs of books thus making information available to a much larger part of the population so it can be said that the printing seminar paper from the year 2004 in the subject english pedagogy didactics literature studies grade 2 b otto von guericke university magdeburg 11 entries in the bibliography language english abstract writing english language tests is a topic very many students and of course also their teachers have to deal with often testing does not have a very good reputation especially when regarding the students most of them are probably happy when a test is over and enjoy the time without them but testing has much more functions than a superficial look at it will provide chapter 3 1 of this paper deals with the numerous purposes and is also supposed to show the important role that testing plays in the teaching process this paper will concentrate on the writing skill and the evaluation of it the other three skills reading listening and speaking are not the centre of research but it is not possible to exclude them because they are all interrelated to the writing skill as this paper wants to show what is it that makes especially the writing skill and also the testing of it so sophisticated and complex writing at an advanced level is usually compositional writing or essay writing chapter 2 3 concentrates on that kind of writing and points out its often difficult prerequisites even for writers in the native language what are the necessary features of tests in general it is supposed to become clear that certain conditions such as validity reliability and practicality are extremely important for written assessment and for every other assessment too many people even if they never actively scored a test are able to imagine the difficulties of a fair and objective judgement especially when dealing with compositional writing that assumption is true but nevertheless there are ways to improve the objectivity of evaluation even if a rest of subjectivity can not be avoided chapter 3 5 focuses on ways to judge tests adequately writing english language te

The Impact and Future of English as a Global Language

seminar paper from the year 2010 in the subject english language and literature studies linguistics grade 1 0 ernst moritz arndt university of greifswald language english abstract for me learning english has always been quite easy though i grew up as a monolingual person and my first contact with english was not until the fifth grade i have been surrounded by this language constantly when i first started to translate my favorite pop songs into german i became more and more familiar with english as the following paragraphs show this is exactly one of the reasons that people are so familiar with it nowadays and that made me think about this language a little bit more intensive english is everywhere even in an official monolingual country like germany though it helps us to get a better understanding for many terms in the world there is also a negative side i think that a conversation held in german should not contain more english words than necessary or even poison it though the influence of the english language on german is undeniable it should never dominate the other language this term paper deals with the status of english as a global language it shows how far english is spread nowadays and also tries to find answers to the question why english of all the many languages in the world is so influential therefore historical grammatical and other reasons are investigated afterwards the paper presents the two sides of the english status namely advantages that come with it but also the negative effects that occur finally there is a look at the future of the english language in order to find out if the influence will increase even more or be replaced by a different language many linguists have studied this field and see english especially in relation to language death this paper shows that the topic is very complex and that it cannot be committed to either positive or negative

The English Language Paper
