subject business economics economic and social history grade a course business administration language english abstract the basic problem of the indian economy is the problem of economic development i e providing the minimum means of subsistence to its fast increasing population those who have been susceptible to the view that the problem may always evade a solution may take solace from the fact that another neighboring country viz china has done it and has accomplished the task tolerably well it has shown that the underdeveloped world is not doomed for ever to live in destination economic development is an accomplished fact the need is to create the environment in which development becomes a self generating process in this research paper we will ascertain the features of under development trace the forces that cause underdevelopment and identify the factors that promote development the rise of mixed methods approaches to development oriented research has brought new attention to qualitative research methods this paper describes the use of qualitative approaches to illuminate gender relations in agricultural development research and project implementation for gender research qualitative methods can be particularly helpful in illuminating how men and women view their lives drawing on literature about social science methods and linking it to recent examples of qualitative methods employed in research and development projects the paper argues for greater precision in key concepts of gender research starting with sex and gender from the many possible qualitative methods used in development work the paper focuses on several common observational both direct and participatory and interview techniques the latter including key informant and group interviews and focus group discussions researchers use various techniques to gather different types of information for example mapping techniques to understand men s and women s different types of knowledge about their environment and eliciting in depth information on a single topic with key informants in a brief discussion of the analysis of qualitative data the paper notes that informant responses are not the truth but need to be assessed against other sources of data finally there is a short discussion of how qualitative data have been used in comparative work the paper concludes that the results of good qualitative research on gender relations can help identify the locally specific pathways needed to achieve gender transformative development approaches the volume concludes with a brief outline of the most important challenges ahead idrc pub research paper and bibliography of educational research on financing mechanisms and educational expenditure in developing countries knowledge economies develop we become more civilized societies prosper and the highest civilizational ambitions are realized thanks to the wisdom and insight of its leadership the united arab emirates has recognized the challenge and what is needed to overcome it and excel it has established schools launched programs and mobilized all of its human and physical resources further the uae has drawn inspiration from successful international models and reproduced aspects of them as it shapes its own education system this has seen the uae in less than half a century rank high on regional and international development indicators the outstanding achievements made by the uae in education recorded in international reports and by specialized agencies are not a matter of luck or coincidence
