have you ever wondered what dark secrets might lurk in your family tree what skeletons might be hiding there this is the story of one such dark secret a family whose lives were turned upside down when their mother exhausted from living with a man she did not love decided to walk out of the family home leaving her husband and their five children to cope without her a mother who then went off to forge a new life with a young german gardener shortly before the outbreak of the first world war it is a story of the resilience of those abandoned children who supported each other during the crisis how they lived through heartache and bewilderment at losing their mother and the hardship of the war years and beyond we get a glimpse of life as it was in the early part of the twentieth century as one sister is taken gravely ill with a disease that was rife at the time but is now more or less eradicated we see the family grow up find love and happiness and in the case of one child move to the wild prairies of canada to start a new life

it is not very easy to sum up change in any situation especially in family situations i think everyone can relate to incidents that have caused many conflicts and challenges in their own family these conflicts sometime cause great strains on familial relationships with each other there are always going to be disappointments in families that some family members don t feel they belong with each other and don t necessarily agree with one another some members of a family feel they are above their siblings however what should always bind family members together is the fact that they share a bloodline and other important similarities that embody their very being this cannot be discounted it is important that families tie up loose ends though invisible with the naked eye but these ends are still there mind wise and in thought this is an important factor that should bind family together so that they can be a counted part of a unit and not be considered so different changed and or separated we all know that there is strength in numbers and this also goes for families who draw strength from each other each member of a family must help to complete each and every member of that family so that each one encourages each other in a positive manner during their own generation and for each generation that will come after them
